

MARION'S GREATEST SON AT REST

LAKE DIVE FATAL TO BISMARCK BOY

DIVES INTO LAKE DETROIT IS PARALYZED

Kenneth Miller, Son of Judge
Andrew Miller, Succumbs
in Minneapolis Hospital

BRING BODY TO CITY

Will Arrive in Bismarck Tonight for Funeral Services,
Message Says

Kenneth Miller, 16 years old, son of Federal Judge Andrew Miller of Bismarck, died in a Minneapolis hospital today from injuries suffered when he dived into three feet of water at his father's cottage at Lake Detroit, Minnesota, yesterday.

The boy was taken to Minneapolis
by train at 9 o'clock Thursday night and rushed to St. Mary's hospital. It was found he was paralyzed from the shoulders down. All efforts of physicians to save his life throughout Thursday night and into the early hours this morning were without avail and death came at 4 a. m. today.

Kenneth dived off a dock into three feet of water, according to information here, diving from the dock at the cottage Judge Miller built at Detroit this year. He was given first aid by Dr. O. O. Larson of Detroit and was rushed to Minn-neapolis, Dr. Larson and Judge and Mrs. Miller accompanying him on the train.

The report here said that the boy's neck was broken, but that he was able to talk and shortly after the accident asked for something to eat.

A telegram announcing the death of Kenneth was received here early today, the message adding that he would be brought to Bismarck on Northern Pacific train No. 3 today.
Kenneth was 16 years old, and would have been a junior in the Bismarck High School next fall. He had two brothers, Max and Milo, and a smaller sister, Eleanor. He was a pleasant and active boy, with scores of friends in Bismarck.

The Miller family has been at Lake Detroit for several weeks, Judge Miller going from there frequently to Fargo to attend to court business.

The accident is the third of its kind that has happened at Detroit Lakes this season.

Governor Suggests Information be Compiled to Aid
State in Bond Sales

Effort to collect statistical information which will accurately measure the progress North Dakota has made toward diversifying farming in the last five years will be sought from various agencies throughout the state by Governor Nelson.

One of the reasons for the action is that, according to the Governor, in the sale of state of North Dakota bonds the state officials have found progress made in diversified farming as the best "sales talk" that can be made for the state. Belief is expressed by the Governor that complete, accurate information will aid not only in the sale of state securities but in the better sale of county and other local securities.

The Governor, in letters to numerous people throughout the state, suggests that a conference of leading men of each community be called and arrangements made to get information as to progress made in the number and quality of milk cows, beef cattle, registered sires, hogs, sheep and poultry and in the number of acres devoted to cultivated crops, clover, alfalfa, and the garden, during the past five years. A local organization also should be formed to secure accurate statistics for the next two years so that the state officials will be able to prove the progress made, the Governor says.

BOARD TO SELL CERTIFICATES ON SEPTEMBER 4

The board of county commissioners of Burleigh county have advertised the sale of $25,000 certificates of indebtedness to mature in six months at a rate of interest not to exceed 7 percent per annum, bids to be received on September 4. The issue is to be made to provide funds to put the county on a cash basis in anticipation of tax collections, as provided by the new law. The certificates will be issued in denominations of $500 each.

THE LAST TRIBUTE

National Day of Mourning Is Fittingly Observed in Many Cities in the State with Exercises This Afternoon—
Business Generally Suspend-sends For Period During
The Day.

The statehouse, courthouse and other public buildings were closed in Bismarck today except at the postoffice where holiday hours were observed; business places generally closed at 3 p. m. to be closed until the end of memorial exercises in the Auditorium between that hour and 4
p. m. and Company A, Bismarck, planned to fire a last salute to Warren G. Harding this afternoon while the funeral services for him were being held in Marion, Ohio.

At the time Bismarck people began to gather at the Auditorium for the memorial tribute, it appeared that a great crowd would participate in the exercises, held as a part of the national day of mourning decreed by President Coolidge. Governor Nelson was to be the chief speaker at the memorial exercises.

ELKS IN CHARGE
Mandan, Aug. 10.—Memorial exercises were held in Mandan at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Palace theater, under the leadership of the Elks lodge. Business houses closed at 1 p. m. H. J. Schafer, exalted ruler of the Elks lodge of which President Harding was a member, presided. The memorial address was delivered by J. A. Heden.

WILTON HOLDS SERVICES
Wilton, N. D., Aug. 10.—Citizens of Wilton and vicinity gathered at the Grand theater at 3 o'clock this afternoon to pay homage to the name of Warren G. Harding. Mayor Charles W. Howe had directed that all business houses be closed from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. Short addresses were given by Rev. E. V. Heaton, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev.
Fr. William Blackburn of the Roman Catholic church.

VALLEY CITY CLOSING
Valley City, N. D., Aug. 10.—Mayor
A. G. Bonhus asked all Valley City business places to close during the afternoon out of respect to the memory of Warren G. Harding. Appropriate exercises were held between 3 p. m. and 4 p. m. at the College auditorium under the auspices of the Edgar A. Fisher Post No. 60, American Legion.

MINOT OBSERVES
Minot, N. D., Aug. 10.—Business was suspended in Minot this afternoon as memorial tribute was paid to the late President Harding.

HARDING DEATH CAUSE IS TOLD

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—The death certificate of President Harding was made public Wednesday by the city health board and showed death due to cerebral apoplexy as a complication of "an acute gastro-intestinal infection." The certificate was signed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university and one of the five physicians who were in attendance upon President Harding here. The certificate gave the cause of death as follows:
Cerebral apoplexy, following an acute gastro-intestinal infection, including cholecystitis (inflammation of the gall bladder) and bronchial pneumonia— instantaneous contributing cause; arterial sclerosis (hardening of the arteries for several years duration).

PENSION CASES ARE CONTINUED TO NEXT MONTH

County Board to Investigate
Applications—County Agent Matter Undecided

The board of county commissioners,
in session yesterday, heard about 25
applications for mothers' pensions under the revised law effective July 1. The hearings were concluded late in the evening, being held in the office of County Judge L. C. Davies.
Members of the board of county commissioners present were C. A. Wan-son, Oscar Bachman and Axel Soderstrom. At the conclusion of the hearing the commissioners decided to postpone further action until next month's meeting, to investigate the cases presented to the board.

No action was taken by the commissioners this week relative to employing a county agent. A. W. Haw, county agent leader, of Fargo, was here for a conference. The board of county commissioners had received an opinion from the state's attorney that the vote in favor of a county agent last fall was not mandatory, since the matter had been placed on the ballot at the volition of the commissioners, and it was optional with them whether they should employ an agent. The matter will remain in abeyance for a period, after which it will be taken up again, with the possibility of an agreement for employment of an agent being reached.

CURIOUS INDIAN RELIC
Jamestown, N. D., Aug. 10.—A curious Indian relic, described as a hide scratcher, was recently found at Fort Ransom, where Indians once roamed.
By Dana Wright of Jamestown. It is a long instrument about a foot long and two inches in diameter, with one end flattened and sharpened to a saw like edge, with which the squaws scraped all the meat off hides that were to be cured and tanned.

FARM LAND VALUES FOR TAXES LOWER

State Board of Equalization
Makes Possible 25 Per Cent
Decrease in State

RAILROADS UNCHANGED
Board Acts After Hearing
From County Auditors in Various Parts of State

Assessment of farm lands in North Dakota will be approximately 25 percent lower this year than last as a result of action by the state board of equalization, it was announced today. The valuations are left at about the same as last year's
uation law the total will be cut one-fourth.

The board also decided against a general reduction of valuations of railroad property, it being fixed at about the same as last year.
While members of the board felt that farm lands were assessed too high, they also felt that other classes of property were assessed high, and that changes made by the legislature increasing the burden on other classes of property would materially aid in relieving the burden farm lands, according to C. C. Converse, tax commissioner.

A reduction of about 5 percent was made in the assessment of the Soo railroad; other lines being generally unchanged.

Members of the state board of equalization are Governor Nelson,
State Treasurer Steen, State Auditor Seidensky, Commissioner of Agriculture J. A. Kitchin and Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse.
Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse,
in a statement said:
"On Wednesday the state board listened to auditors and other representatives of the several counties with respect to assessed valuations.
As a rule, with two or three exceptions, the county auditors expressed themselves as being satisfied that they were not unfairly discriminated against by last year's action of the state board, but that last year's assessment by the board resulted in substantial fairness as between the several counties. The board continued its session Thursday and first took up a consideration of farm land assessments and as a result of their deliberations concluded that the as-
as it was last year in most of the counties with only light changes to adjust inequalities. The members of the board took the view that while land is assessed high, nevertheless other classes of property are also assessed high, and the legislative changes made by the last legislature will relieve farm lands of a part of the excessive burden which they

NATION STOPS INDUSTRY FOR LAST TRIBUTE

From Coast to Coast Business
and Commerce Is Suspended During Funeral

ALSO BEYOND AMERICA

Memorial Services Are Being Held in London and
Other Cities

(By the Associated Press.)
Washington, Aug. 10.—The nation will pay the tribute of silence to Warren Harding as his body is entombled at Marion today.

From coast to coast and from border to border every wheel of the federal government and practically every one of industry and commerce will stand still. Theaters and other amusement places will be closed, baseball games postponed and other events of sport deferred.

As recommended by President Coolidge in his proclamation officially announcing the death of the late President the day will be one of mourning and prayer. Thousands upon thousands will gather in their places of worship for services in which church bells toll their mournful message of a beloved chieftain land to his last rest.

These services will not be confined to land or America. At sea on great passenger liners flying the American and other flags prayers will be said and memorial ceremonies will be held in a number of foreign lands—in historic Westminster Abbey in France; in Switzerland; in South America and elsewhere.

President Coolidge did not pre-claim this burial day a national holiday and it was not his purpose to recommend a stoppage of industry, suffering rather to leave to each individual the choice of the method by which he would pay a last tribute to the dead. In many states the state holiday has been proclaimed and in these all banks, national and state, will be closed. In those states where national banks may not be closed under the law the transaction of only urgent business will be encouraged.

In many sections mines, factories, shipyards and places of business generally will be closed throughout the day. In others there will be a cessation of work during the burial hour.

Traffic Ceases.
Traffic on all railroads will halt at the time of entombment, trains grinding to a stop and remaining motionless for from two to five minutes.
Work in the railroad shops will cease
for similar time.

The Postal Telegraph and Cable company will silence its wires for two minutes while the Western Union will suspend activities for 3 minutes.

At 4 o'clock eastern standard time taps will be flashed on all Associated Press wires in the country and every telegraph instrument will be suspended for two minutes while all employees will maintain absolute silence.

In New York, Washington and Chicago afternoon papers will suspend publication.
Exchanges in New York, and other big market centers were closed.

Postoffices everywhere will be closed for two hours with curtailed deliveries.

In Washington practically all business will come to a standstill at 4 o'clock while buglers at half a dozen points in the city will sound taps,
the soldier's farewell.

From 4 p. m. to 4:02 p. m. the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company will handle no tolls and the operators will sit at attention at their posts.

STATE BONDS SELL QUICKLY

Snapped up in Eastern Cities,
According to Word Here

The $1,500,000 real estate bonds of North Dakota, which were offered to the general market a few days ago
by the syndicate of Twin City houses, which purchased them, were snapped up in an hour after being put on the market in New York, according to financial notes in the Minneapolis Journal. They were taken by banks and other houses for investment, and not for sale.

The quick sale of these bonds is expected to greatly help the future bond market of the state, as there had been reticence on the part of eastern firms to bid on North Dakota bonds on the ground that the bond market was not good at this time.

The latest figures show that there are 15,450,000 Jews in the world.

THOUSANDS IN LONDON HOLD HARDING RITES

London, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Several thousand Americans and British crowded in around Westminster Abbey, the spiritual center of the empire today,
to mourn the death of President Harding. Hundreds who could not be accommodated in the ancient cathedral lined the streets and squares in the vicinity of the parliament building as prominent personages arrived for the services.

CLEANING OF RESERVOIRS IS REFUSED

Head of Bismarck Water Supply Company Won't Correct Condition of the Water

Commission Flatly Rejects
Proposition, Declaring It's
Water Company's Business

The city commission, in special meeting last night, declined to agree to pay for the cleaning of the water works reservoirs, holding that the plant still is the property of the Bismarck Water Supply Company and that it is the duty of that company to provide the city with pure, wholesome water as long as it is getting the revenue.

The proposition was first brought before the city commission last Monday night, when a representative of the company locally said that they were anxious to have the reservoirs cleaned and had suggested to George F. Flannery, St. Paul, president of the firm, that the company and city divide the expense, estimated at $750. The local representative's view was that the city had been expected to take over the plant August 1, but had not done so because of delay in getting money from bonds and the city would in all probability take over the plant September 1; that the benefit of the cleaning would go beyond that time and it was fair that the expense be divided.

The matter was continued, however, until Mr. Flannery had answered local officials of the water company. His answer was presented to the city commission last night. It was that the city had taken over the plant—insofar as future improvements are involved—when the agreement to purchase was made in June and that therefore the city should bear all the expense of cleaning the reservoirs.

Reject the View.
The city commission flatly rejected the view. Mayor Lenhart said that the reservoirs had not been cleaned for one year. They were to have been cleaned last October but were not because, company officials said, that it would be useless. They were not cleaned after the June rise this summer because, company officials said, the June rise was followed by other rises. Recently the silver has gone down so that the reservoirs could be cleaned, company officials said. It was admitted that there is a great deal of mud in them and they ought to be cleaned.

The city commission assumes the expense of new connections and similar improvements to the present plant which will continue after the city owns it, Mayor Lenhart said, but the city won't pay out money to clean the reservoirs since the cleaning already is long over-due and it is a part of the every-day operating expense of the company, which is getting all the revenue.

The answer of Judge Flannery was disappointing to local officials.
Health Board Order
E. M. Stanton of the state board of health has issued an order to the water company to clean the reservoirs. Whether this will be done is undetermined. Meantime the injunction of the city health officer to continue boiling the water continues and it has such a great turbidity as to be objectionable to people using it.

The city officials hope that the decision of the supreme court in the bond case may come soon, or that other action may be taken, so that the city can take over the water company by September 1. Its contract to take over the plant expires September 9.

The commission also in its special meeting last night allowed estimates of the Woodrich Construction Company and DeGraff Wolff on work already done on the additions to the water works system.

It also ordered down to grade that portion of the sidewalk on the north side of Second street between Broadway and Thayer streets that is not now down to grade, leading from the new Hughes building north. The city pays for bringing sidewalks down to grade.

LAST FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WARREN HARDING HELD IN OHIO CITY, CROWDED WITH THOUSANDS

Hushed Silence Pervades the Streets of the "Home Town"
Of the Late President—Thousands Pass Bier During Night and in Early Hours This Morning—Military Splendor and Pomp In Absent as Chief of Nation Is Laid
To Last Rest in Marion Cemetery—Mrs. Harding Still
Brave and Will Leave Tonight for Washington

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The day when human eyes would look their last on Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth President of the United States, dawned today in his father's home. Before waiting to pass slowly past the bier, resting in his father's home. Before the shadows of evening fell across the wide, peaceful fields of the valley where he was born the gates of his tomb will have closed behind him and the long, long way of his funeral end.

In gracious kindness the sorrowful woman who looked for the end of the public ordeal that has stretched into more than one week of sorrow and parting that the people of the nation, the states and the two that claimed him as their son might testify to their grief, set aside her own wish to be alone with her dead at the last. Throughout hours of darkness last night the casket which held him lay open in the humble home and all were freely welcome to pass beside it again.

THE "BOYS" PASS BIER
Today the face of the dead chief was made visible for the last time to the "boys" who knew him as "the boss" in the office of the Marion Star when he sat there as editor. A few others came privately to the casket because of their close association in bygone years with the dead.
In the depth of her great sorrow Mrs. Harding failed of the thoughtful kindness that has marked her every action before and since death came to her husband in San Francisco.

Last night it seemed that every man, woman and child in Marion stood long on the shaded, quiet streets to pay this last honor to the dead. No one man knew with exactness how many thousands had walked through the modest room where the casket lay and gazed a moment on the peaceful face under the glass. There was a hush of mourning about the dark streets despite the hundreds waiting to enter and the hundreds streaming slowly away talking in hushed voices of the neighbor and friend they had acclaimed. They had seen him in death as they had known him in life.

The calm, kindly dignity that marked him in his hours as President remained with him even when life had ceased. He was the same Warren Harding some of them had known for years and seemed only to sleep as he lay there. It was hard for them to realize that their old friend was dead.

COMMERCE IS STILLLED
The last day before the tomb shall claim these "hallowed relics" began peacefully and with no stir of marching legions to join in the last hour of the dead. The great mills that surrounded were silent and deserted. No rattling of commerce broke the quiet of the shady streets. On the railroads long trains came in to add new thousands from distant places to the throng already gathered, but no whistle blew and the clanging of the bells was stilled.

A City of Silence.
Except for the multitude that grew hourly to fill the sidewalks with moving humanity Marion was a city of silence in her sorrow, a silence that would not be broken until the simple funeral train gathered late in the day to bear the dead President to the tomb that awaited him.
Then there must come an added stir and movement that could not be avoided. Then would voices be raised in prayer and song, melodies as the last rites were said. But the morning hours were peaceful and calm and as untrodden as the sleep of the man thus honored.

Another President was riding toward Marion during these morning hours, coming to say farewell to a man he loved, and a chieftain to whom he had been loyally devoted in public service. Arrangements for reception of the special train bearing President Coolidge from Washington had been completed long before his arrival and the first coming of the nation's chief executive to an American community would be marked by no cheering or clamor.

Before darkness falls the Presidential train will be speeding over the rails again to Washington for the business of state cannot wait for more than a brief moment of sorrow
however great the loss.
Mrs. Harding to Go Back.
Then also will Mrs. Harding have turned back to the dreary task before her at the White House, leaving her heart in the tomb at Marion.

Eventually she will come back to live here, close to her dead as her plans now are known. But tomorrow in Washington she faces a new and terrible ordeal when the intimate family treasures cherished by her dead husband and herself must be dispersed to new surroundings that the mansion can no longer hold.
The President and Mrs. Harding will leave for Washington tonight.
Mrs. Harding had assured Mrs. Harding that she might continue to consider the White House her home but she would not have it so for more than the brief time required to see away the personal things that surrounded her there during her brief time as first lady of the land.

In her decision to leave for Washington immediately after the train had been placed upon President Harding's casket Mrs. Harding gave further proof of her dauntless courage which has brought her the admiration of the nation in these hard days of sorrow. Her spirit would not brook delay in facing the task she must do. The every day things of life must go on, however stricken the heart.

From Many States
It seemed that not alone Ohio but every surrounding state sent hundreds to pass slowly beside the bier or to stand silent while the dead
president was carried to his tomb.
Congested sidewalks flanked Center street where the home of his father sheltered the great son again stand-behind a glowing wall of flowers. On the north side down the tree-lined stone walk that leads to the home a close, crowded line kept in place by guardsman stretched away for blocks. The far end was down beyond the great courthouse and it

TO LINE UP OTHERS
Need Now Is To Bring in Sentiment of Other States in
The Northwest

When asked whether he would be able to attend the farmers conference to be held at Minot on the 12th, Governor Nelson stated that with the inbors of the equalization board and other important matters coming up the last part of this week, he would be unable to attend. Governor Nelson also stated that it was his opinion that with the action of the state wide conference held at Fargo, the following other conferences, the sentiment of the great majority of North Dakotans on the subject of the revival of the United States Grain Corporation, for the purpose of stabilizing or fixing a minimum price on wheat, is now fully established and well known and that there is little to be gained by holding additional conferences within North Dakota.
"What we need now," said the governor, "is first of all to impress upon the President and Congress the great need for this legislation, and what the sentiment of the people of North Dakota is, and in the second place that by letters, telegram and calls we urge upon the wheat raisers of Minnesota, South Dakota and Montana that they make the same strong demands for the calling of an immediate extra session of congress.
"I believe that if the energy and expense devoted to the holding of additional conferences within the state were employed in urging the wheat raisers of other states to join those of North Dakota in demanding an extra session, more would be accomplished and earlier action ac-cured."

It must be apparent that if the revival of the United States Grain Corporation is to be of any value in the sale of the 1923 crop, action must be taken without delay. For now many leaders within a farmers' organizations agree with Kelly of South Dakota who says that he believes it is even now too late to be of any value to the farmers in selling the 1923 crops and that rather than to call an extra session we should await the opening of the regular session in December.
"Personally, I have felt that an

Kenneth Miller, Son of Judge
Andrew Miller, Succumbs
in Minneapolis Hospital

Will Arrive in Bismarck Tonight for Funeral Services,
Message Says

Kenneth Miller, 16 years old, son of Federal Judge Andrew Miller of Bismarck, died in a Minneapolis hospital today from injuries suffered when he dove into three feet of water at his father's cottage at Lake Detroit, Minnesota, yesterday.

The boy was taken to Minneapolis by train at 9 o'clock Thursday night and rushed to St. Mary's hospital. It was found he was paralyzed from the shoulders down. All efforts of physicians to save his life throughout Thursday night and into the early hours this morning were without avail and death came at 4 a. m. today.

Kenneth dove off a dock into three feet of water, according to information here, diving from the dock at the cottage Judge Miller built at Detroit this year. He was given first aid by Dr. O. O. Larson of Detroit and was rushed to Minneapolis. Dr. Larson and Judge and Mrs. Miller accompanying him on the train.

The report here said that the boy's neck was broken, but that he was able to talk and shortly after the accident asked for his mother. A telegram announcing the death of Kenneth was received here early today, the message adding that he would be brought to Bismarck on Northern Pacific train No. 3 today.

Kenneth was 16 years old, and would have been a junior in the Bismarck High School next fall. He had two brothers, Max and Milo, and a smaller sister, Eleanor. He was a pleasant and active boy, with scores of friends in Bismarck.

The Miller family has been at Lake Detroit for several weeks, Judge Miller going from there frequently to Fargo to attend to court business.

The accident is the third of its kind that has happened at Detroit Lakes this season.

Governor Suggests Informa-
State in Bond Sales

Effort to collect statistical information which will accurately measure the progress North Dakota has made toward diversified farming in the last five years will be sought from various agencies throughout the state by Governor R. A. Nestos.

One of the reasons for the action is that, according to the Governor, in the sale of state of North Dakota bonds the state officials have found progress made in diversified farming as the best "sales talk" that can be made for the state. Belief is expressed by the Governor that complete, accurate information will aid not only in the sale of state securities but in the better sale of county and other local securities.

The Governor, in letters to numerous people throughout the state, suggests that a conference of leading men of each community be called and arrangements made to get information as to progress made in the number and quality of milk cows, beef cattle, registered sires, horses, hogs, sheep and poultry and in the number of acres devoted to cultivated crops, clover, alfalfa, and the garden, during the past five years. A local organization also should be formed to secure accurate statistics for the next two years so that state officials will be able to prove the progress made, the Governor says.

The board of county commissioners of Burleigh county have advertised the sale of $25,000 certificates of indebtedness to mature in six months at a rate of interest not to exceed 7 percent per annum; bids to be received on September 4. The issue is to be made to provide funds to put the county on a cash basis in anticipation of tax collections, as provided by the new law. The certificates will be issued in denominations of $500 each.

THE LAST TRIBUTE

National Day of Mourning Is Fittingly Observed in Many Cities in the State with Ex-
ercises This Afternoon—
Business Generally Suspends For Period During
The Day.

The statehouse, courthouse and other public buildings were closed in Bismarck today except at the post-office where holiday hours were observed; business places generally closed at 3 p. m. to be closed until the end of memorial exercises in the Auditorium between that hour and 4 p. m. and Company A, Bismarck, planned to fire a last salute to Warren G. Harding this afternoon while the funeral services for him were being held in Marion, Ohio.

At the time Bismarck people began to gather at the Auditorium for the memorial tribute, it appeared that a great crowd would participate in the exercises, held as a part of the national day of mourning decreed by President Coolidge. Governor Nestos was to be the chief speaker at the memorial exercises.

ELKS IN CHARGE
Mandan, Aug. 10.—Memorial exercises were held in Mandan at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Palace theater, under the leadership of the Elks lodge. Business houses closed at 1 p. m. H. J. Schaefer, exalted ruler of the Elks lodge of which President Harding was a member, presided. The memorial address was delivered by J. A. Heder.

WILTON HOLDS SERVICES
Wilton, N. D., Aug. 10.—Citizens of Wilton and vicinity gathered at the Grand theater at 3 o'clock this afternoon to pay homage to the name of Warren G. Harding. Mayor Charles W. Howe had directed that all business houses be closed from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. Short addresses were given by Rev. E. V. Headen, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Fr. William Blackburn of the Roman Catholic church.

VALLEY CITY CLOSING
Valley City, N. D., Aug. 10.—Mayor A. G. Bonhus asked all Valley City business places to close during the afternoon out of respect to the memory of Warren G. Harding. Appropriate exercises were held between 3 p. m. and 4 p. m. at the College auditorium under the auspices of the Edgar A. Fisher Post No. 60, American Legion.

MINOT OBSERVES
Minot, N. D., Aug. 10.—Business was suspended in Minot this afternoon as memorial tribute was paid to the late President Harding.

HARDING FUNERAL HOUR
OBSERVANCE IN FORKS
Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 10.—Grand Forks observed the hour of President Harding's funeral from 3 to 4 p. m. today in accordance with a (Continued on Page Three)

HARDING DEATH CAUSE IS TOLD

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—The death certificate of President Harding, made public Wednesday by the city health board and showed death due to cerebral apoplexy as a complication of "an acute gastro-intestinal infection." The certificate was signed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university and one of the five physicians who were in attendance upon President Harding here. The certificate gave the cause of death as follows:

Cerebral apoplexy, following an acute gastro-intestinal infection, including cholecystitis (inflammation of the gall bladder) and bronchial pneumonia— instantaneous contributing cause; arterial sclerosis (hardening of the arteries for several years duration).

PENSION CASES ARE CONTINUED TO NEXT MONTH

County Board to Investigate
ent Matter Undecided

The board of county commissioners, in session yesterday, heard about 25 applications for mothers' pensions under the revised law effective July 1. The hearings were concluded late in the evening, being held in the office of County Judge L. C. Davies. Members of the board of county commissioners present were C. A. Swanson, Oscar Bachman and Axel Soder. At the conclusion of the hearing the commissioners decided to postpone further action until next month's meeting, to investigate the cases presented to the board. No action was taken by the commissioners this week relative to employing a county agent, J. W. Haw, county agent, of Fargo, was here for a conference. The board of county commissioners had received an opinion from the state's attorney that the veto in favor of a county agent last fall was not mandatory, since the matter had been placed on the ballot at the election of the commissioners, and it was optional with them whether they should employ an agent. The matter will remain in abeyance for a period, after which it will be taken up again, with the possibility of an agreement for employment of an agent being reached.

CURIOUS INDIAN RELIC
Jamestown, N. D., Aug. 10.—A curious Indian relic, described as a hide scraper, was recently found at Fort Ransom, where Indiana once roamed, by Dana Wright of Jamestown. It is a bone instrument about a foot long and two inches in diameter, with one end flattened and sharpened to a saw like edge, with which the squaws scraped all the meat off hides that were to be cured and tanned.

FARM LAND VALUES FOR TAXES LOWER

Makes Possible 25 Per Cent
Decrease in State

RAILROADS UNCHANGED

Board Acts After Hearing
From County Auditors in Various Parts of State

Assessment of farm lands in North Dakota will be approximately 25 percent lower this year than last as a result of action by the state board of equalization, it was announced today. The valuations are left at about the same as last year's figure, but under the 75 percent valuation law the total will be cut one-fourth.

The board also decided against a general reduction of valuations of railroad property, it being fixed at about the same as last year. While members of the board felt that farm lands were assessed too high, they also felt that other classes of property were assessed high, and that changes made by the legislature increasing the burden on other classes of property would materially aid in relieving the burden farm lands, according to C. C. Converse, tax commissioner.

A reduction of about 5 percent was made in the assessment of the Soo railroad; other lines being generally unchanged. Members of the state board of equalization are Governor Nestos, State Treasurer Steen, State Auditor Pointdexter, Commissioner of Agriculture J. A. Kitchen and Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse. In a statement said: "On Wednesday the state board listened to auditors and other representatives of the several counties with respect to assessed valuations. As a rule, with two or three exceptions, the county auditors expressed themselves as being satisfied that they were not unfairly discriminated against by last year's action of the state board, but that last year's assessment by the board resulted in substantial fairness as between the several counties. The board continued its sessions Thursday and first took up a consideration of farm land assessments and as a result of their deliberations concluded that the assessment of farm land would be left as it was left last year in most of the counties with only light changes to adjust inequalities. The members of the board took the view that while land is assessed high, nevertheless other classes of property are also assessed high, and the legislative changes made by the last legislature will relieve farm lands of a part of the excessive burden which they are now subjected to." NATION STOPS INDUSTRY FOR LAST TRIBUTE

and Commerce Is Suspended During Funeral

ALSO BEYOND AMERICA

Memorial Services Are Being
Held in London and
Other Cities

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 10.—The nation will pay the tribute of silence to Warren Harding as his body is entombed at Marion today.

From coast to coast and from border to border every wheel of the federal government and practically every one of industry and commerce will stand still. Theaters and other amusement places will be closed, baseball games postponed and other events of sport deferred.

As recommended by President Coolidge in his proclamation officially announcing the death of the late President the day will be one of mourning and prayer. Thousands upon thousands will gather in their places of worship for services while myring church bells toll their mournful message of a beloved chieftain laid to his last rest.

These services will not be confined to land or America. At sea on great passenger liners flying the American flag and other flags prayers will be said and memorial ceremonies will be held in a number of foreign lands—in historic Westminster Abbey, in France; in Switzerland; in South America and elsewhere.

President Coolidge did not proclaim this burial day a national holiday and it was not his purpose to recommend a stoppage of industry, preferring rather to leave to each individual the choice of the method by which he would pay a last tribute to the dead. In many states the state holiday has been proclaimed and in these all banks, national and state, will be closed. In those states where national banks may not be closed under the law the transaction of only urgent business will be encouraged.

In many sections mines, factories, shippings and places of business generally will be closed throughout the day. In others there will be a cessation of work during the burial hour.

Traffic Ceases.
Traffic on all railroads will halt at the time of entombment, trains grinding to a stop and remaining motionless for from two to five minutes. Work in the railroad shops will cease for similar time.

The Postal Telegraph and Cable company will silence its wires for two minutes while the Western Union will suspend activities for 3 minutes.

At 4 o'clock eastern standard time taps will be played on all Associated Press wires in the country and every telegraph instrument will be suspended for two minutes while all employees will maintain absolute silence.

In New York, Washington and Chicago afternoon papers will suspend publication. Exchanges in New York, and other big market centers were closed. Postoffices everywhere will be closed for two hours with curtailed deliveries.

In Washington practically all business will come to a standstill at 4 o'clock while buglers at half a dozen points in the city will sound taps, the soldier's farewell.

From 4 p. m. to 4:02 p. m. the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company will handle no tolls and the company will sit at attention at their posts.

STATE BONDS SELL QUICKLY

According to Word Here

The $1,600,000 real estate bonds of North Dakota, which were offered to the general market a few days ago by the syndicate of Twin City houses which purchased them, were snapped up in an hour after being put on the market in New York, according to financial notes in the Minneapolis Journal. They were taken by banks and other houses for investment, and not for sale.

THOUSANDS IN LONDON HOLD HARDING RITES

London, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Several thousand Americans and British crowded in around Westminster Abbey, the spiritual center of the empire today, to mourn the death of President Harding. Hundreds who could not be accommodated in the ancient cathedral lined the streets and squares in the vicinity of the parliament building as prominent personages arrived for the services.

CLEANING OF RESERVOIRS IS REFUSED

Head of Bismarck Water Supply Company Won't Correct

Water Company's Business

The city commission, in special meeting last night, declined to agree to pay for the cleaning of the water works reservoirs, holding that the plant still is the property of the Bismarck Water Supply Company and that it is the duty of that company to provide the city with pure, wholesome water as long as it is getting the revenue.

The proposition was first brought before the city commission last Monday night, when a representative of the company locally said that they were anxious to have the reservoirs cleaned and had suggested to George F. Flannery, St. Paul, president of the firm, that the company and city divide the expense, estimated at $750. The local representative's view was that the city had been expected to take over the plant August 1 but had not done so because of delay in getting money from bonds and the city would in all probability take over the plant September 1; that the benefit of the cleaning would go beyond that time and it was fair that the expense be divided.

The matter was continued, however, until Mr. Flannery had answered local officials of the water company. His answer was presented to the city commission last night. It was that the city had taken over the plant—insofar as future improvements are involved—when the agreement to purchase was made in June and that therefore the city should bear all the expense of cleaning the reservoirs.

The city commission flatly rejected the view. Mayor Lenhart said that the reservoirs had not been cleaned for one year. They were to have been cleaned last October but were not because, company officials said, the water was so high and muddy that it would be useless. They were not cleaned after the June rise this summer because, company officials said, the June rise was followed by other rises. Recently the river has gone down so that the reservoirs could be cleaned, company officials said. It was admitted that there is a great deal of mud in them and they ought to be cleaned.

The city commission assumes the expense of new connections and similar improvements to the present plant which will continue after the city owns it, Mayor Lenhart said, but the city won't pay out money to clean the reservoirs since the cleaning already is long over-due and it is a part of the every-day operating expense of the company, which is getting all the revenue.

The answer of Judge Flannery was disappointing to local officials.

Health Board Order
E. M. Stanton of the state board of health has issued an order to the water company to clean the reservoirs. Whether this will be done is undetermined. Meantime the injunction of the city health officer to continue boiling the water continues and it has such a great turbidity as to be objectionable to people using it.

The city officials hope that the decision of the supreme court in the bond case may come soon, so that other action may be taken, so that the city can take over the water company by September 1. Its contract to take over the plant expires September 8.

The commission also in its special meeting last night allowed estimates of the Woodrich Construction Company and DeGraff Wolf on work already done on the additions to the water works system.

LAST FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WARREN HARDING HELD IN OHIO CITY, CROWDED WITH THOUSANDS

Of the Late President—Thousands Pass Bier During Night and in Early Hours This Morning—Military Splendor and Pomp Is Absent as Chief of Nation Is Laid
To Last Rest in Marion Cemetery—Mrs. Harding Still
Brave and Will Leave Tonight for Washington

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The day when human eyes would look their last on Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth President of the United States, dawned with many who loved him still waiting to pass slowly past the bier, resting in his father's home. Before the shadows of evening steal across the wide, peaceful fields of the valley where he was born the gates of his tomb will have closed behind him and the long, long way of his funeral end.

In gracious kindness the sorrowful woman who looked for the end of the public ordeal that has stretched into more than one week of ceremony and pageant that the people of the nation, the states and the two that claimed him as their son might testify to their grief, set aside her own wish to be alone with her dead at the last. Throughout hours of darkness last night the casket which held him lay open in the humble home and all were freely welcome to pass beside it again.

THE "BOYS" PASS BIER
Today the face of the dead chief was made visible for the last time to the "boys" who know him as "the boss" in the office of the Marion Star when he sat there as editor. A few others came privately to the casket because of their close association in by-gone years with the dead. In the depth of her great sorrow Mrs. Harding had not failed of the thoughtful kindness that has marked her every action before and since death came to her husband in San Francisco.

Last night it seemed that every man, woman and child in Marion stood long on the shaded, quiet streets to pay their last honor to the dead. No one man knew with exactness how many thousands had walked through the modest room where the casket lay and gazed a moment on the peaceful face under the glass. There was a hush of mourning about the dark streets despite the hundreds waiting to enter and the hundreds streaming slowly away talking in hushed voices of the neighbor and friend they had acclaimed. They had seen him in death as they had known him in life.

The calm, kindly dignity that marked him in his hours as President remained with him even when life had ceased. He was the same Warren Harding some of them had known for years and seemed only to sleep as he lay there. It was hard for them to realize that their old friend was dead.

COMMERCE IS STILLED
The last day before the tomb shall claim these hallowed relics began peacefully and with no stir of marching legions to join in the last honors. Here and there on the streets walked men of the Ohio National Guard, but they walked for the most part unarmed and merely to see that the place and quiet of the sleeper was not disturbed in thoughtlessness. They would not go with him to his tomb.

Again today the stir of movement in life in Marion was hushed in honor of the dead. The great mills that surrounded were silent and deserted. No rattling of commerce broke the quiet of the steady streets. On the railroads long trains came in to add new thousands from distant places to the throng already gathered, but no whistle blew and the clanging of the bells was stilled.

WHEAT PRICE ACTION FINAL
IN NO. DAKOTA

Sentiment Overwhelming For Quick Action by Congress,
Governor Declares

TO LINE UP OTHERS
Need Now Is To Bring in Sen-
The Northwest

When asked whether he would be able to attend the farmers conference to be held at Minot on the 12th, Governor Nestos stated that with the labor of the equalization board and other important matters coming up the last part of this week, he would be unable to attend. Governor Nestos also stated that it was his opinion that with the action of the state wide conference held at Fargo, following other conferences, the sentiment of the great majority of North Dakotans on the subject of the revision of the United States Grain Corporation, for the purpose of stabilizing or fixing a minimum price on wheat, is now fully established and well known and that there is little to be gained by holding additional conferences within North Dakota.

"What we need now," said the governor, "is first of all to impress upon the President and Congress the great need for this legislation, and what the sentiment of the people of North Dakota is, and in the second place that by letters, telegrams and calls we urge upon the wheat raisers of Minnesota, South Dakota and Montana that they make the same strong demands for the calling of an immediate extra session of congress."

"I believe that if the energy and expense devoted to the holding of additional conferences within the state were employed in urging the wheat raisers of other states to join those of North Dakota in demanding an extra session, more would be accomplished and earlier action secured."

"It must be apparent that if the revival of the United States Grain Corporation is to be of any value in the sale of the 1923 crop, action must be taken without delay. Even now, many leaders within the farmers' organizations agree with Kelly of South Dakota who says that he believes it is even now too late to be of any value to the farmers in selling the 1923 crops and that rather than to call an extra session we should await the opening of the regular session in December."

"Personally, I have felt that an (Continued on Page Three)

BROADWAY STARS ARE BOOKED FOR CITY IN FALL AND WINTER; ED WYNN AND AL JOLSON AMONG THOSE COMING HERE

First Show of Season Will Be "Shuffle Along," Famous Negro Jazz Show Which Created Furore on Broadway and Is Now on Tour to Pacific Coast—Five Big Broadway Productions Booked

Bismarck people will have the opportunity of seeing at least five of the reigning successes of Broadway during the coming fall and winter at the city Auditorium. Bookings for the fall and winter by Manager Vesterman now include seven productions, of which five have made tremendous hits in the east.

The first show of the season is "Shuffle Along," the negro revue which created a sensation in the east when it first appeared and which has a tremendous success on its coast tour. Other shows booked are: October 16, "Blossom Time"; December 25, San Carlos Opera Company; December 26, May Robson in a new play; January 11, "The Cat and the Canary"; January 25, Ed Wynn in "The Perfect Fool"; February 4, "The First Year."

Harry Miller, Ruth Chatterton and Blanche Bates had booked for Bismarck in their play, to come here in September, but cancelled without explanation.

"Shuffle Along" is now playing on the Pacific Coast. The Sacramento Bee says of the show: "Broadway's soul of approval after a record run, brooded into Sacramento last night, won favor from the opening number and carved a lasting place for Shuffle Along among the memories of those whose taste runs to musical comedy. The company of agile performers of dusky hue delighted the audience at the Clunie and won assurance of well-filled houses at the remaining performances of its local showing, this afternoon and evening and tomorrow evening."

The jazz note is satisfactory in that it is not overdone. By comparison with imitations of Shuffle Along, it is restrained in tone, finding its rest in able singing rather than mere shouting. The syncopation is of the skillful sort, aided and abetted by a pianist and trap drummer in the orchestra who are artists at their forte. The chorus is snappy, the comedy rollicking and ineffective and the smooth movement of the whole is the best test of the claim that the show has the original New York cast."

"Blossom Time" is a musical operetta which is being played in New York. The scene is laid in Vienna, the scene of a score of musical successes and based upon the life of Franz Schubert. Shortly after the death of Schubert there was published a novel based on an incident in his life. Out of this material grew a highly successful musical piece from the hands of Williner and Reichert, in which was introduced melodies from Schubert. Dorothy Donnelly re-wrote the fable and supplied a new set of lyrics. The music is from the famous melodies of Franz Schubert and H. Hart, adapted by Sigmund Romberg. The play carried a charming love story.

The San Carlos Opera Company has been traveling the country for many years, giving high class grand and light opera with success, perhaps the only company which year after year has been able to successfully produce opera in the smaller cities of the country. May Robson is well known to Bismarck theater-goers, having been here the last two years.

"The Cat and the Canary," booked for January 11, is another Broadway success. Wynn and Jolson

Ed Wynn will be seen here for the first time in his long career on the stage. For many years he ranked as one of the great comedians, appearing with the Follies and other shows. He was starred about five years ago, and then later made his big hit in "The Perfect Fool." He is probably the best drawing comedian in the east at this time.

"The First Year," is a comedy which also has won honors in the east. Al Jolson will come to Bismarck again, but the date is not yet fixed. He will be here in April, either going to or returning from the Pacific Coast.

ELKS RULER PAYS TRIBUTE TO HARDING

James G. McFarland, grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, pays a glowing tribute to the late President Warren G. Harding in a circular received by Secretary L. K. Thompson, of the Bismarck Lodge of Elks. President Harding was a member of the order.

"The nation mourns the loss of its splendid leader," says Mr. McFarland. "In our order the mystic hour of eleven will bring to us the memory of no more devoted or faithful brother than Warren G. Harding."

"His position as chief executive, his earnest support and his abiding and expressed confidence in the influence and future of our order, require a more fitting tribute than could possibly be expressed in Mar- ion, Ohio, lodge number 32, alone. Each subordinate lodge is directed to include in its proper order of business at the next regular meeting the services announcing the death of Brother Harding."

"His virtues and accomplishments will be written large upon our tablets of wax and memo."

170 PROSTRATED IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Aug. 9.—Intense heat caused 170 prostrations yesterday among those in the Harding funeral procession from the White House to the capitol, in the line of spectators along the route and the crowd awaiting entrance to the rotunda to view the body. First aid stations and hospitals, reporting that this number was given treatment, said none was in serious condition.

ROTARY CLUB IN TRIBUTE

Pay Respects to Memory of Late President at Luncheon

Memorial service in honor of the late President Harding was held by the Rotary club at its luncheon yesterday afternoon.

Following a brief silent period in honor of the dead, Governor Nestos delivered a brief memorial address. He paid a fine tribute to the fraternal spirit of President Harding and his sincerity of purpose, comparing him to Lincoln in that he sought to surround himself in the cabinet with strong men regardless of personal inclination toward individuals, and also praised his efforts to raise the Vice Presidency to a higher plane than ever before. Frequently, he said, the President sought the advice of Vice President Coolidge and brought him in the councils of the nation.

PLANNED TO KILL FAMILY

12-Year-Old Colored Boy Held in Maryland Town.

Centerfield, Md., Aug. 9.—The alleged determination of a 12-year-old colored boy, to wipe out a family consisting of husband, wife and two infant children was uncovered here, according to Justice Robert Courcy after William Hall Jr., one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall of Church Hill had died, ostensibly from injuries received in a fall.

The funeral of the child was held at the afternoon while a coroner's inquest was held which declared that Frank Bryson, a colored boy, had deliberately placed quantities of poison in the baby's milk and also had scattered the poison in salt, pepper oatmeal and sausage about the Hall home with the confessed intention of killing the father who, the boy said, had reprimanded him for staying out late at night.

1924 Models Are the Finest Big-Sizes Studebaker Ever Built
The enthusiasm with which the new 1924 Studebaker cars have been received locally is an indication of the reception they have enjoyed throughout the country. No wonder. They are emphatically the most compelling values Studebaker ever offered and the public knows that Studebaker has been a consistent leader, year after year, in the amount of intrinsic value per dollar invested. The Big-Six Sedan and the Coupe are the most cars that have ever borne the name Studebaker. They provide all the performance, all the comfort, and all the dependability that any car will give—at a price that smaller producers cannot approach. Everything for which one can wish in motoring convenience, comfort and utility has been provided—even to the extra disc wheel with tire, tube and tire cover (two on Sedan); handsome nickel-plated bumpers, front and rear; large, roomy trunk; automatic gasoline signal, and many other features. There is nothing more to buy. The prices of the Sedan and Coupe are moderate because of Studebaker's large production, vast physical and financial resources, the manufacture of all vital parts in Studebaker plants, and the accumulation of experience and prestige gained through 71 years of building quality vehicles.

JAMESTOWN GIRL WINS ESSAY HONORS

Marie Kovar Sends in Best Essay on Good Roads

Jamestown, Aug. 10.—Miss Marie Kovar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kovar, 122 2nd street west, has been announced the winner in the state contest for the best essay on good roads, according to an announcement of the judges President John Lee Coulter of the state agricultural college, Fargo; Julius Bacon of Grand Forks; President George A. McFarland of the Minot Normal School and Fred Mann of Devils Lake. She won the Jamestown College scholarship valued at $200.

Miss Kovar was graduated from Jamestown High School in June of this year and was the salutatorian of her class. Miss Kovar is 18 years of age and one of the honor students of the high school, which she attended for four years. Her average for the four years was 93.6 and all through high school she maintained a high average in all her studies. Special mention should also be made of Miss Kovar's instructor in English, who directed the essay writing for the J. H. S. students. Herbert Procter and Opal Kellison, J. H. S., also wrote in the contest. Miss Kovar will enter J. C. this fall. She will go to Donald Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hanson, Jamestown, who attended the Flaxton High School the last three years, while his father was superintendent of that school. Donald is 15 years of age and previous to his high school course attended the Lincoln and Franklin schools of Jamestown. He will enter school at Marble City, Okla., this fall to complete his high school course. Mr. Hanson left last week for Marble City having been appointed superintendent of the Dwight Indian School in that city, the family to join him later. Donald has been newsboy at Jamestown for several years, the family returning here for the summer vacations.

Third prize was won by Oliver H. Streimkes of Bantry.

Miss Kovar's winning essay will be sent to the national committee at Washington, D. C., where it will enter in competition with similar essays from other states. The winner of the national contest will be awarded a scholarship at any university for four years of study. The last named scholarship is valued at $4,000.

Organize Delphian Educational Society

Jamestown, N. D., Aug. 10.—A Jamestown Delphian Society has been organized and this study club, the purpose of whose members is to increase their knowledge of the fine arts, now joins the 200 chapters of Delphians in the United States. The Delphian Society it is said, is the largest educational society in the country. A drive to organize chapters is now being made in North Dakota, the workers in Jamestown being Mrs. S. L. Robertson, Miss Elsie Roe and Miss Adda Pearl Roller.

Sixty women joined in Jamestown. They met Tuesday at the library and elected officers as follows: President, Mrs. R. S. Goodhue; vice-president, Mrs. John Knauf; secretary, Mrs. P. G. Artz; treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Kirk; advisory board, Mrs. L. W. Upshaw, chairman, Mrs. Robert Glendinning and Mrs. Oscar Fried, Parliamentarian, Mrs. E. B. Murphy, critic; Mrs. LeRoy Schmitz, reporter; Mrs. Frank Danuser; time keeper, Mrs. A. J. Loran.

Tompkins Block Topples Over

Minot, N. D., Aug. 10.—With a loud crash that could be heard for several blocks, the old front wall of the Tompkins block, destroyed in a fire some time ago, toppled to earth, a mass of debris, about 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, the lower half of the wall falling across the sidewalk and part of north Main street directly opposite the wall. Fortunately no pedestrians or cars happened to be passing at the time.

Workmen engaged in clearing away the debris of the ruined buildings and attached cables to the top of the last remaining high wall in an attempt to pull the wall backwards so that it would fall into the basement. The upper half of the wall fell in the desired direction but the lower half, together with the steel girders supporting the first and second floors, crashed down upon the sidewalk and street. It required several minutes for workmen to clear a passageway so that auto traffic could be resumed on that side of the street.

NOTICE TO CUT WEEDS
All property owners, renters and agents must immediately cut the weeds on their premises and on the parking strips along their sidewalks. The City Ordinances provide a fine of not to exceed $15.00 or imprisonment for not to exceed ten days for failure to do so after notice by the proper authorities. The ordinances further provide that the cost of cutting weeds, if done by the city, shall be assessed against the property. Please cooperate with the city in getting rid of this nuisance.
By Order of the Board of City Commissioners.
M. H. ATKINSON,
City Auditor.

CROWDS SWELL MARION, O., TO OVERFLOWING

Eating Places Are Taxed to Handle Great Numbers at Harding Rites

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Morning's gray dawn ushering in the day when President Harding is to be laid at rest by his "home folks" found thousands standing in line waiting to pass his bier. The line which formed early yesterday long before the arrival of the President's body had scarcely ended at 11 o'clock this morning after approximately 25,000 persons had looked the last time upon his face, until a new line began to form.

By 6 o'clock the line extended for six long blocks and was constantly lengthening.

The doors of the Harding home were not scheduled to be opened to the public until 9 o'clock. They are to be closed at 1 o'clock and the funeral cortege is to leave the house for the cemetery at 2 p. m.

All during the night and increasing as the day drew on thousands of people from all over the county kept pouring into the city from all points in one continuous stream. Thousands of automobiles parked along the roadside out of the city, their occupants catching what snatches of sleep they might until morning.

Special trains bearing many thousands began arriving during the night and continued to come in today on all roads entering the city. The city's streets were packed with people early and the lack of feeding the visitors was taxing Marion's eating places.

Hundreds of people walked the streets all night unable or unwilling to go to bed. Many slept on benches about the courthouses or many places where they might sit or lie down in the open.

Harding Had $52,100 Insurance

New York, Aug. 10.—President Harding's life was insured for $52,100 with six companies, according to a statement made public yesterday by the Insurance Press. The largest policy, for $15,000 was with the Mutual Benefit, on the 15 payment life plan, and was taken out in 1914.

President Harding, the statement said, had taken out several policies from time to time, starting when he was nineteen.

SEES JOHNSON, REED, OPPOSING

New York, Aug. 10.—The choice of William Randolph Hearst for the presidential nomination in 1924 is Senator James A. Reed of Missouri for the Democratic ticket and Senator Hiram Johnson of California for the Republican, the publisher is quoted as saying in a letter to the Jewish Tribune which that periodical will reproduce tomorrow.

GARBERG GETS APPOINTMENT

Peter B. Garberg, former state attorney of Adams county and present legal advisor to the federal prohibition enforcement bureau in this state, has been appointed assistant to United States District Attorney Seth Richardson, according to word received here. The appointment was made by the attorney general on recommendation of Senators E. F. Ladd and Lynn J. Frasier of North Dakota.

BIG ALCOHOL SEIZURE MADE

Minneapolis, Aug. 10.—Twenty-five thousand dollars worth of alcohol were seized by H. L. Duncan, federal prohibition group enforcement chief and his aides at the Great Northern warehouse here yesterday. The seizure was made after the officers had been "tipped off" that a mysterious shipment was at the warehouse. It consisted of 2,108 cases of "body rub," "hair tonic," and "refresher" and would amount, Mr. Duncan said, to 3,168 gallons.

No arrests have yet been made. The agents have not ascertained where the shipment was from or to whom it had been assigned.

MAN HANGED IN ARIZONA

Florence, Arizona, Aug. 10.—Maurice Martinez was hanged at the state penitentiary this morning for the murder of J. Frank Pearson, postmaster at Eady, Arizona, in a border bandit raid on August 1921. The strap was sprung at 5:24 o'clock and Martinez was pronounced dead at 5:25.

PRESIDENT WAS HIS COUSIN

B. M. Marshamman of Chicago, a cousin of President Harding, placed a white floral wreath upon the flag-draped casket as the train paused for forty minutes on a siding in the yards.

Labor Leader of England Comments On Ruhr Situation

London, Aug. 10.—London has heard some frank comment recently on the situation in the Ruhr. J. Thomas, the labor leader, said recently at Shrewsbury: "It appears we are at the parting of the ways in European affairs, so far as France is concerned. No one wants to excuse Germany for her misdeeds, but we should say to France that the only solution of the present state of affairs is to get together, talk things over frankly, and watch the future with a desire to forget the past. We cannot stand by and allow the continuance of a policy which is ruinous to France as well as to Germany, and can but lead to a disaster for ourselves."

British Encouraged In Oil Drilling

London, Aug. 10.—The success of recent oil-drilling operations in the northern counties of England and in Scotland have led to new drilling operations on a larger scale. The oil found, while not abundant, is claimed to be of the finest heavy grade and has led many geologists to believe that asphalt deposits lie in this section.

Oil has been found in Derbyshire, Staffordshire and Midlothian. At Hardstoft, Derbyshire, a well drilled about a year ago has produced a thousand tons of heavy oil and the well is still flowing. Five other wells in this section have shown traces of oil but have not yet been pumped. Indications of oil have been found in the Staffordshire coal mines, but the prospects are not believed encouraging for the operator.

Most of the test wells have been drilled by the government in order to prove the theory that oil exists in many of the sections of the British Isles. English operators believe that while the result of the drilling so far is not what was looked for, it is possible to produce oil in commercial quantities.

TURNBRIDGE ELEVATOR BURNS
Turnbridge, N. D., Aug. 10.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Farmers elevator here, together with about 15,000 bushels of grain and a feed mill in connection. It is stated that the grain was fully insured but that $10,000 insurance on the elevator building will not cover the loss on it. The company has bought the remaining elevator here, owned by Thomas Ose, and will resume business.

SAYS ALBANIA IS QUIET
Tirana, Albania, Aug. 10.—W. F. Stirling, official adviser to the Albanian government, who has just completed a tour of the whole country, says the reports of insurrection and fighting in Albania are pure inventions, and that the country was never more tranquil.

The state of public security is remarkably good, Mr. Stirling declares, and no Balkan country was ever more orderly. The Albanians are a keen and enterprising people, anxious to develop their country and attract foreign capital to assist them in exploiting its wealth.

FASCIST NUMBER MILLION
Rome, Aug. 10.—A recent meeting of the Grand Fascist council issued a communique stating that the Fascist position is regarded with entire satisfaction, and claiming that its adherents now number more than a million.

FILTRATION PLANT TALKED
Jamestown, N. D., Aug. 10.—The city of Jamestown will investigate the cost and plans for a softening and filtration plant here, although petitions asking the action were signed by only a small proportion of the city's 7,000 inhabitants. The city council voted to have the city engineer look into the matter and report at the next regular meeting of the council.

The first typewriter was made in 1847.

Last Funeral Services For Warren Harding Held in Ohio

Word came of special trains sweeping toward Marion from all directions. Motor cars were rolling in over every street. Harding added to the silent company gathered sadly where so short a time ago thousands similarly gathered in noisy acclaim to the man who will hear no more cheering.

Up every street the machines were massed at the curb in almost endless rows.

Up the streets themselves in all the region about the home of the aged physician was the mecca of this silent pilgrimage curiously blank and still. Here and there a car on business that had to do with the funeral moved swiftly or a troop of Indian truck rumbled by to set its human freight about some new task of watching.

Against the curbs the young guardsmen stood widely spaced to keep the crowds on the sidewalk. Traffic officers in khaki by the intersection waived the necessary flow of vehicles on its way. A thin haze dimmed the sunlight a little in the morning hours but it was a bright day for all that.

The houses were quiet with the utter cessation from day-day affairs. Only the endless silent throng that waited in the long lines of the north walk of Center street pinching slowly eastward to the boyhood home of the dead nation's chief served to break the illusion of the Sunday calm.

North Dakota Cities Today Join in Exercises

statement issued by Henry O'Keefe, Jr., president of the city commission, would suggest that business places close between 3 and 4 p. m. Friday," said Mayor O'Keefe. "It would also be most appropriate if any of the churches which are planning to hold services in honor of the late president would hold them during this same honor."

"If this is done I have no doubt that any business houses which may find it impossible to close entirely for the hour would be willing to release as many of the employees as possible to attend the services."

The exercises at Marion for President Harding are scheduled to begin at 3 p. m. central standard time which is that under which Grand Forks operates.

FARGO OBSERVES
Fargo, Aug. 10.—H. W. Geary, mayor of Fargo representing the civil contingent in the Harding memorial celebration held in Island Park today, acted as chairman of the celebration with F. W. McRoberts of the Commercial club committee in charge.

The national guard forces of the city will give the dead president full military honors, Capt. Matthew Murphy, adjutant of the 164th Inf., and representing the military element in the celebration, announced.

Firing of salutes began at dawn and will continue throughout the day.

have a liberal home and that it would be preferable to wait another year so as to be able to appraise more accurately the results of the legislative changes before making any general revision of the assessments. For a similar reason no substantial change was made in the total assessed value of railroad property, but it was determined to make the assessment at last year's figures, except in the case of the Soo, the assessed valuation of which was reduced approximately 5 percent below last year's figures as it was the opinion of the members of the board that as between the various roads, the Soo had been assessed unduly high. The members of the board had before them figures submitted by all the railroad companies setting forth the fact that the railroads are assessed in this state at more than their full value as found by the interstate commerce commission, which value is asserted by some investigators as being in itself too high and the railroads had also submitted figures showing that the burden of taxation in North Dakota was heavier than that in Wisconsin and other states traversed by these roads. The board concluded, however, that it would be unwise to make changes in valuations this year until there has been an opportunity to observe the results of the operation of the new laws. The action of the board was taken by a unanimous vote.

SURPLUS OF LABOR SEEN

There is a surplus of harvest labor in many parts of North Dakota just now but all of it is expected to be absorbed when threshing becomes general next week, J. A. Kitchen, commissioner of agriculture and labor and head of the free employment service, said today.

Mr. Kitchen said all labor stations in the state, except Fargo, reported a surplus of men yesterday. Farmers are not paying the high wages which prevailed previously, the usual wage now being $3.50 per day, he said. It may be increased to $4.00 for threshing, he added.

Eating Places Are Taxed to Handle Great Numbers at Harding Rites

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Morning's grey dawn ushering in the day when President Harding is to be laid at rest by his "home folks" found thousands standing in line waiting to pass his bier. The line which formed early yesterday long before the arrival of the President's body had scarcely ended at 11 o'clock this morning after approximately 25,000 persons had looked the last time upon his face, until a new line began to form.

By 6 o'clock the line extended for six long blocks and was constantly lengthening.

The doors of the Harding home were not scheduled to be opened to the public until 9 o'clock. They are to be closed at 1 o'clock and the funeral cortege is to leave the house for the cemetery at 2 p. m.

All during the night and increasing as the day drew on thousands of people from all over the county kept pouring into the city from all points in one continuous stream. Thousands of automobiles parked along the roadside out of the city, their occupants catching what snatches of sleep they might until morning.

Special trains bearing many thousands began arriving during the night and continued to come in today on all roads entering the city. The city's streets were packed with people early and the task of feeding the visitors was taxing Marion's eating places.

Hundreds of people walked the streets all night unable or unwilling to go to bed. Many slept on benches about the courthouses or many places where they might sit or lie down in the open.

Harding Had $52,100 Insurance

New York, Aug. 10.—President Harding's life was insured for $52,100 with six companies, according to a statement made public yesterday by the Insurance Press. The largest policy, for $16,000 was with the Mutual Benefit, on the 15 payment life plan, and was taken out in 1914.

President Harding, the statement said, had taken out several policies, from time to time, starting when he was nineteen.

SEES JOHNSON, REED, OPPOSING

New York, Aug. 10.—The choice of William Randolph Hearst for the presidential nomination in 1924 is Senator James A. Reed of Missouri for the Democratic ticket and Senator Hiram Johnson of California for the Republican, the publisher is quoted as saying in a letter to the Jewish Tribune which that periodical will reproduce tomorrow.

GARBERG GETS APPOINTMENT

Peter B. Garberg, former state attorney of Adams county and present legal advisor to the federal prohibition enforcement bureau in this state, has been appointed assistant to United States District Attorney Seth Richardson, according to word received here. The appointment was made by the attorney general on recommendation of Senators E. F. Ladd and Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota.

BIG ALCOHOL SEIZURE MADE

Minneapolis, Aug. 10.—Twenty-five thousand dollars worth of alcohol were seized by H. L. Duncan, federal prohibition group enforcement chief, and his aides at the Great Northern warehouse here yesterday. The seizure was made after the officers had been "tipped off" that a mysterious shipment was at the warehouse. It consisted of 2,108 cases of "body rub," "hair tonic," and "refreshment" and would amount, Mr. Duncan said, to $1,350,000.

MAN HANGED IN ARIZONA

Florence, Arizona, Aug. 10.—Maul Martinez was hanged at the state penitentiary this morning for the murder of J. Frank Pearson, postmaster at Rudy, Arizona, in a border bandit raid on August 1921. The strap was sprung at 5:24 o'clock and Martinez was pronounced dead at 5:35.

Labor Leader of England Comments On Ruhr Situation

London, Aug. 10.—London has heard some frank comment recently on the situation in the Ruhr.

J. Thomas, the Labor leader, said recently at Shrewsbury: "It appears we are at the parting of the ways in European affairs, so far as France is concerned. No one wants to excuse Germany for her misdeeds, but we should say to France that the only solution of the present state of affairs is to get together, talking things over frankly, and watch the future with a desire to forget the past. We cannot stand by and allow the continuance of a policy which is ruinous to France as well as to Germany, and can but lead to a disaster for ourselves."

British Encouraged In Oil Drilling

London, Aug. 10.—The success of recent oil-drilling operations in the northern counties of England and in Scotland have led to new drilling operations on a large scale. The oil found, while not abundant, is claimed to be of the finest heavy grade and has led many geologists to believe that asphalt deposits lie in this section.

Oil has been found in Derbyshire, Staffordshire and Midlothian. At Hardstoft, Derbyshire, a well drilled about a year ago has produced a thousand tons of heavy oil and the well is still flowing. Five other wells in this section have shown traces of oil but have not yet been pumped.

Indications of oil have been found in the Staffordshire coal mines, but the prospects are not believed encouraging for the operator.

Most of the test wells have been drilled by the government in order to prove the theory that oil exists in many of the sections of the British Isles. English operators believe that while the result of the drilling so far is not what was looked for, it is possible to produce oil in commercial quantities.

TURNBRIDGE ELEVATOR BURNS

Turnbridge, N. D., Aug. 10.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Farmers elevator here, together with about 15,000 bushels of grain and a feed mill in connection. It is stated that the grain was fully insured but that $10,000 insurance on the elevator building will not cover the loss on it. The company has bought the remaining elevator here, owned by Thomas Osé, and will resume business.

SAYS ALBANIA IS QUIET

Tirana, Albania, Aug. 10.—W. P. Stirling, official adviser to the Albanian government, who has just completed a tour of the whole country, says the reports of insurrection and fighting in Albania are pure inventions, and that the country was never more tranquil.

The state of public security is remarkably good, Mr. Stirling declares, and no Balkan country was ever more orderly. The Albanians are a keen and enterprising people, anxious to develop their country and attract foreign capital to assist them in exploiting its wealth.

Last Funeral Services For Warren Harding Held in Ohio

moved away from the house of sadness almost toward the end of the day. Hundreds upon hundreds came to join the gathering every hour, came faster than the slow movement past the bier could absorb them. A thin handful seemed the line of those coming from the quiet rooms around which the sorrowful thought of all Americans centered today. Thousands must be turned away in disappointment almost certainly although hours must intervene before the final funeral train was formed.

Special Trains Come
Word came of special trains sweeping toward Marion from all directions. Motor cars came rolling in over every road bringing added scores to join the silent company gathered sadly where so short a time ago thousands similarly gathered in noisy acclaim to the man who will hear no more cheering.

Up every street the machines were massed at the curb in almost endless rows.

Up the streets themselves in all the region about the home of the silent pilgrim curiously blank and still. Here and there a car or bus that had to do with the funeral rites moved swiftly or a troop laden truck rumbled by to set its human freight about some new task of watching.

Guardsmen Line Streets
Against the curbs the young guardsmen stood widely spaced to keep the crowds on the sidewalk. Traffic officers in khaki by the intersection waived the necessary flow of vehicles on its way. A thin haze dimmed the sunlight a little in the morning hours but it was a bright day for all that.

The houses were quiet with the utter cessation from work-day affairs. Only the endless silent throng that waited in the long lines of the north walk of Center street pinching slowly eastward to the boyhood home of the dead nation's chief served to break the illusion of the Sunday calm.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING
"It is six years since I had my first stomach trouble. It rapidly grew worse. My food would not digest and I was reduced to skin and bone. My doctor put me on a starvation diet, and when my pains grew worse I concluded it was too much of a good thing. On the advice of my druggist, I tried May's Wonderful Remedy, and am now entirely well." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

JAMESTOWN GIRL WINS ESSAY HONORS

Marie Kovar Sends in Best Essay on Good Roads

Jamestown, Aug. 10.—Miss Marie Kovar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kovar, 122 2nd street west, has been announced the winner in the state contest for the best essay on good roads, according to an announcement of the judges President John Lee Coulter of the state agricultural college, Fargo; Julius Bacon of Grand Forks; President George A. McFarland of the Minot Normal School and Fred Monn of Devils Lake. She wins the Jamestown College scholarship valued at $200.

Miss Kovar was graduated from Jamestown High School in June of this year and was the salutatorian of her class. Miss Kovar is 18 years of age and one of the honor students of the high school, which she attended for four years. Her average for the four years was 93.6 and all through high school she maintained a high average in all her studies. Special mention should also be made of Miss Kovar's winning essay in English, which she directed the essay writing for the J. H. S. students. Herbert Procter and Opal Kellison, J. H. S., also wrote in the contest. Miss Kovar will enter J. C. this fall. She will go to Donald Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hanson, Jamestown, who attended the Flaxton High School the last three years, while his father was superintendent of that school. Donald is 15 years of age and previous to his high school course attended the Lincoln and Franklin schools of Jamestown. He will enter school at Marble City, Okla., this fall to complete his high school course. Mr. Hanson left last week for Marble City having been appointed superintendent of the Dwight Indian School in that city, the family to join him later. Donald has been newsboy at Jamestown for several years, the family returning here for the summer vacations.

Third prize was won by Oliver H. Strimbeck of Bantry. Miss Kovar's winning essay will be sent to the national committee at Washington, D. C., where it will enter in competition with similar essays from other states. The winner of the national contest will be awarded a scholarship at any university for four years of study. The last named scholarship is valued at $4,000.

Organize Delphian Educational Society

Jamestown, N. D., Aug. 10.—A Jamestown Delphian Society has been organized and this study club, the purpose of whose members is to increase their knowledge of the fine arts, now joins the 500 chapters of Delphians in the United States. The Delphian Society it is said, is the largest educational sorority in this country. A drive to organize chapters is now being made in North Dakota, the workers in Jamestown being Mrs. S. L. Robertson, Miss Elsie Roe and Miss Adda Pearl. Other officers of the society are: President, Mrs. R. S. Goodhue; vice-president, Mrs. John Knaut; secretary, Mrs. P. G. Arts; treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Kirk; advisory board, Mrs. L. W. Upham; chairman, Mrs. Robert Glendenning; and Mrs. Oscar Fried, Parliamentarian. Mrs. E. B. Murphy, critic; Mrs. LeRoy Schmitt, reporter; Mrs. Frank Danuser; time keeper, Mrs. A. J. Loram.

Tompkins Block Topples Over

Minot, N. D., Aug. 10.—With a loud crash that could be heard for several blocks, the old front wall of the Tompkins block, destroyed in a fire some time ago, toppled to earth, a mass of debris about 11:30 a. m. Tuesday the lower half of the wall falling across the sidewalk and part of north Main street directly opposite the wall. Fortunately no pedestrians or cars happened to be passing at the time. Workmen engaged in clearing away the debris of the ruins and attached cables to the top of the last remaining high wall in an attempt to pull the wall backwards so that it would fall into the basement. The upper half of the wall fell in the desired direction but the lower half, together with the steel girders supporting the first and second floors, crashed down upon the sidewalk and street. It required several minutes for workmen to clear a passageway so that auto traffic could be resumed on that side of the street.

NOTICE TO CUT WEEDS
All property owners, renters and agents must immediately cut the weeds on their premises and on the parking strips along the sidewalks. The city ordinances provide a fine of not to exceed $15.00 or imprisonment for not to exceed ten days for failure to do so after notice by the proper authorities. The ordinances further provide that the cost of cutting weeds, if done by the city, shall be assessed against the property. Please cooperate with the city in getting rid of this nuisance.
By Order of the Board of City Commissioners.
M. H. ATKINSON,
City Auditor.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

NATION'S DAY OF MOURNING

Today is the nation's day of mourning, so declared by proclamation, willingly and fittingly observed by citizens all over the Republic. Today the supreme tribute of a nation is paid to its fallen leader. There is none too rich, none too poor, nor anyone so powerful or meek that he cannot voice the spirit of the day.

If Warren Harding could know charity of expression, the genuine sympathy, the solemn reverence of the nation at this time he could not but feel a new confidence in the land he loved and served so well. Often caustic in criticism of its chief executive, sometimes careless and bitter in denunciation in life, it is characteristic of the lofty spirit of the American people that in death there is poured out an honest and heartfelt grief, there is given a recognition due the sacrifice made in their behalf; harshness is stilled and appreciation is shown.

For the people of the nation see clearly, more clearly than ever before perhaps, the great strain of the conduct of the office of chief executive of the land. They realize that Woodrow Wilson was broken in body and spirit in his service, that Warren Harding was borne to death by the cares of office, both true soldiers of the Republic, giving the best they had and doing the right as they saw it.

It is fitting that the people of Bismarck have joined in the day of national mourning, as have the people of thousands of other cities and towns in the nation. Perhaps it may lead to a lasting appreciation of the Presidency, a greater spirit of charity in life, a finer recognition of the service given by the chief magistrates of the land.

GONE

Two bone harpoons, notched like saws, were lost 20,000 years ago in an English peat bog which preserved them until discovered recently.

These harpoons belonged to Maglemose men who WALKED from Denmark to England. In those days—according to the anthropological journal, Man—the North Sea was dry.

Since then, geography has changed and so have men. Some philosopher said that nothing is eternal except change. But let's forget the ancients. Pondering them too intently is apt to make us wonder if effort is futile. The only effort that is not futile is the improvement of self. That's our life purpose.

SNOW

One steam shovel and three five-ton trucks remove as much snow as can be handled by 50 men and 10 teams, according to Engineering News-Record. The man-power method cost $265, the mechanical way $127, last winter in Hartford, Conn.

When machinery can do for $127 the work that costs $265 when performed chiefly by human labor, men naturally are out of jobs. But they soon find new ones.

Labor-saving machinery temporarily injures the people whose jobs it takes. But the man-power thus released becomes available for effort in new fields. This is the process by which our standard of living gradually rises.

PUSSYFOOT

Pussyfoot Johnson hits the trail again. He'll carry the prohibition fight into South Africa, Egypt, Turkey, Arabia and India. He claims that the Mohammedans, who are forbidden by their religion to drink liquor, nip quite a bit on the sly.

Pussyfoot has 600,000,000 people in this new territory he's working. He won't live to see it, and neither will we, but eventually the whole world will have prohibition. After occasional relapses. A nation is like an individual. Maybe you've had experience, know how difficult it is to get an old soak cured of the thirst.

NOW

Everything has its good side, even a heat wave. Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. finds that the death rate decreases almost a third in July, August and September.

These three are not the healthiest months of the year. Their death rate is low because people take better care of themselves in summer than in winter—eat less, dress properly and get fresh air. Health is nine-tenths up to ourselves, one-tenth controlled externally. Our death rate is highest in winter. But the healthiest people in the world are Eskimos, who spend most of their lives in winter.

WALL PAPER

A traveling salesman, writing us about one of these cars, says he found it more interesting than the World Court, the Harding trip to Alaska or the election of Magnavox Johnson. People are most interested in the simple details (routine equipment) of life.

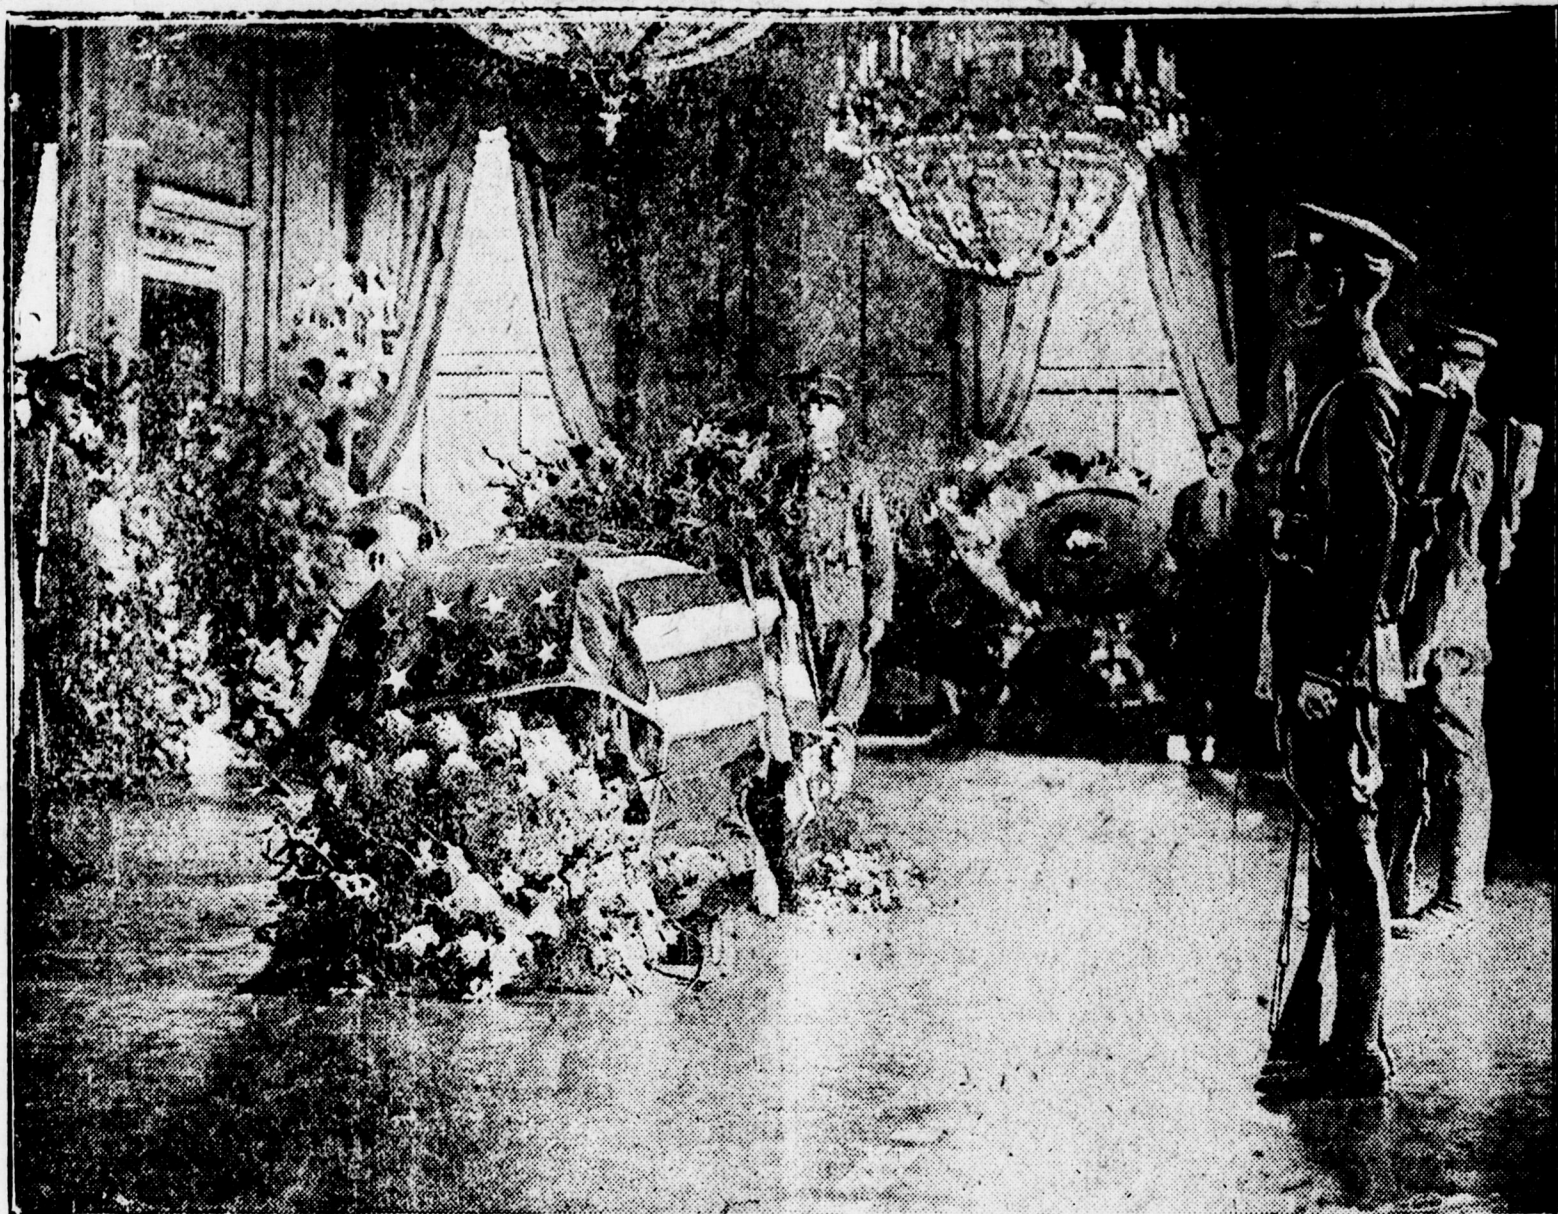

FIRST

A factory in Strong, Maine, gets an order by radio from Japan for a carload of toothpicks. Few of us realize that the radio is primarily an invention of immense practical value, rather than a scientific toy for our entertainment. It is not improbable that at some future date radio will be the chief means of communication. It may even surpass speech when airplanes scatter population.

BIG

American machinery in one year has turned out more than the amazing Paisley community made in a century. This is what our comment of W. H. Barr, Scotch merchant, who visited us recently, said.

World's powerhouse—its dynamo.

In the historic East Room of the White House, where in life he entertained distinguished foreign delegations and received the folks from "back home," Warren G. Harding's body lay in state. The golden chandeliers cast a mellow glow over the flag-draped casket as high government officials called to pay their respects to the nation's chief.

BACK TO SCENES OF TRIUMPHS

Here is the caisson bearing the body of Warren G. Harding turning into Pennsylvania avenue en route from the White House to the capitol. General Pershing led the military escort. Thousands, from newsboys and flower girls on up to the nation's chief executives, passed before the bier as it lay in state under the spreading dome of the historic old government building.

LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO MR. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON.

MY DEAR HUSBAND:

The queerest thing possible has happened, Joe dear, and it seems to me as if it were a direct interposition of Providence.

You remember when you were here last, we talked over the feasibility of bringing a baby to Leslie and seeing if we could not interest her in it. The night before last Leslie did not seem as well as usual. She was very restless. Kept moaning even in her own bedroom, and I again had taken the apartment across the hall for myself and the nurses.

For a little time she seemed much brighter yesterday morning, although the ride and the settling of her in her home tired her greatly. About noon she went to sleep and slept until late in the afternoon. When she awoke she asked, "Where is my baby? Bring him to me."

No one dared answer. She seemed to have forgotten all about her accident and her long illness and to think only that we were keeping her baby from her. She was quite delicious and only sank to sleep after the doctor had given her a narcotic.

I confess we were all very much worried. Jack thought that she would never recover her normal mind again. I found him about half past nine in his room, where he had thrown himself across his bed, sobbing.

It's a terrible thing, Joe, to see a man give up and weep. And Jack has been so splendid and so strong through it all. I thought, however, at one time he, too, was losing his mind, for he seemed to think that all of Leslie's trouble was a punishment to him. I tried to tell him that he had been devoted to her; that I would not ask my own son to be sweeter to the girl he had married than he had been to my daughter. And he made a very queer remark to me, Joe. He said, "Oh Mother Hamilton, you do not know—you do not know."

I was, sure the boy was becoming morbid over Leslie's long illness. I sat a long time with him, and once or twice I thought I heard a step and a faint moaning cry in the hallway. However, I did not get up to see what was the matter, because my mind was so taken up with Jack's and Leslie's affairs.

As last we decided that early the next morning we would go to the children's home and bring Leslie a baby, for now that she was calling for her baby, there seemed nothing else to do.

This decision seemed to comfort Jack a little, and finally I persuaded him to think of undressing and going to bed. Who a very queer remark to me, Joe. He said, "Oh Mother Hamilton, you do not know—you do not know."

I was then that I found I was un-labeledly fatigued. It seemed to me that I could hardly walk across the hallway from the children's apartment to my own. For a moment I sat down by Leslie's bed and then I dreamed of her as she was a baby in my arms. The tears filled my eyes.

"Here! Here! I must not allow myself to give up," I said as I hastily walked to the doorway and opened the door into the hall.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Oh, say!" cried little Mrs. Dumphy, rushing into the throne room where King Snookums, king of the Pee Wees, sat on his throne. "Davy's gone!"

King Snookums straightened his crown and sat up. "Davy! You don't say so! And where's he gone?"

"He's gone to hunt a volcano!" cried poor little Mrs. Dumphy, sitting down on an acorn and hunting for her pocket hanky to cry in. "Tiny Mite next door heard him tell a butterfly that a volcano was a mountain with a hole on top of it. And when Davy said he wished he could see one, the butterfly said he knew where there was a whole row of them and if my Davy wanted to see them to hop on his back and hold take him there. That was last night and I haven't seen him since. Oh, dear!"

"It's a case for Nancy and Nick, my detectives," cried King Snookums. "They can find a lost Pee Wee quicker than most folks can find a word in a dictionary. I'll call 'em right now. Nancy! Nick! Come here and bring your magic shoes."

When the Twins heard the trouble, off they set to hunt for the poor little Pee Wee lady's lost Davy. The first thing they did was to ask all the butterflies. The yellow butterfly with the black dots knew all about it. "Yes, jump on me and I'll take you to the place," he said. "Davy crawled into the hole on top of one of the volcanoes and I haven't seen him since."

"And, mind you! The yellow butterfly took them to a fence with a row of flower pots on top turned upside down. 'There are the volcanoes!' he said, 'but it's gone. The one with Davy in it!' It was the second one in the row. Oh, there it is! It's got a flower planted in it now."

"Then Davy must be under the dit!" cried Nancy. "We'll have to dig him out!"

Sure enough Davy Dumphy was there and not hurt a bit, but awfully dirty. "I don't like volcanoes!" he cried. "I'll never hunt another one as long as I live."

THE YELLOW SEVEN

The Passing of Zara-Khan

NEA Service, Inc. 1923

By Edmund Snell

This unusual series of stories deals with the exploits of "Chinese" Pennington, a detective sent by his government to British North Borneo to run to earth The Yellow Seven, a gang of Chinese bandits.

James Varney's bungalow was a landmark. It stood on the summit of a hill at the foot of which the turbid Tombakut River—swinging from some mysterious point of origin in the Borneo hinterland—swerved abruptly and, leaving in its wake a muddy delta infested with crocodiles, continued its onward course to the sea. Varney knew that river and had charted it as accurately as it was possible to chart anything in the lesser-known regions of a perplexing Orient. He understood the habits and customs of the Dyak villagers whose dwellings clustered along the path-girt banks. It was possibly for these reasons that a discriminating syndicate in London—that exploited the coconut from its outer husk to the oil that lurked beneath its hard exterior—had seen fit to entrust him with their interests.

Varney was thirty-seven. He was short, moreover, and stockily built, with a rugged, kindly countenance upon which the tropical sun had set its unmistakable sign and superscription. He had a dog—a shaggy, friendly animal of unknown breed—an extensive library of faded, cloth-bound books, and a marked preference for Dutch tobacco. Varney—who despised all other forms of personal adornment—had from time to time solicited the aid of the most skilled tattooer on the island—one Zara-Khan—and, excepting for a space the size of a dinner-plate on his broad chest, he had merely the ingratiating smile, a gaudy turban, and a suit of white ducks—had looked in on one of his periodical visits to Varney's area. He had passed on to a neighboring rubber estate, hoping on the return journey to find his lucrative client less exacting in mind. Coming swiftly on the heels of a perfect tropic afternoon, the storm-flood had spread its cloak over the entire heavens.

It seemed that nothing short of a miracle could have spared Varney's house; but, as luck would have it, the frenzy of the gale had merely lifted the sage-thatch until it stood on end, allowing the ensuing deluge to pour in; had deposited Varney's dog in the river a couple of hundred yards away, and left half the crockery in the bungalow intact. The more sheltered buildings—offices, quarters, store-houses, and the like, had crumpled like a pack of cards.

Chang—the dog—had crawled back to the veranda and crouched in a corner over a chunk of raw meat pilaged from a ruined store. Varney, returned from a preliminary investigation of damage, was gazing on the imminent fall of darkness through a tumbler of amber fluid wherein countless silver bubbles scurried merrily upward. A half-dazed Chinese boy—bare to the waist—endeavored from a complete packet of matches to light the wick of the oil lamp. Something sputtered feebly, then leapt into flame and the servant emitted a grunt of satisfaction.

The Chinaman shuffled beyond the rays of the lamp; the dog growled with sudden fierceness and bounded to the entrance, where the trader intercepted it skillfully—and, as if tossed by an unseen hand over the veranda-rail, a piece of paste-board fluttered through the crowd of humming insects that encircled the lamp and came to rest on the sodden boards almost at Varney's feet.

He stooped and picked up the card. It was as long as his middle finger—a narrow, flexible thing with rounded corners. He turned it over curiously between his finger—then started back in horrified amazement. "The Yellow Seven!"

A second later he was turning over a jumbled heap of moist documents, searching for the circular he had received only two days before from Captain John Hewitt—Commissioner of Police at Jesselton—a kind of formal warning that this yellow seven was the sign employed by a powerful secret organization—and that its receipt signified a warning of death!

He hooked forward a chair and, pouring himself out a generous helping from a square bottle, examined the document and the card in turn. Presently he folded the document carefully in the pasteboard and, thrusting both into a tunic pocket, leant back in his chair.

It was fully ten minutes before he did try to serve some onions with perfume on them.

A Thought

SUSPECT WANTED IN WEST.

Valley City, N. D., Aug. 10.—Frank E. Walters, alias M. G. McKee, arrested here for burglary is wanted by Idaho authorities, according to local Chong-Hee returned. He stood on the threshold, shivering like a man with the ague, and Varney beckoned him to approach.

"I saw nobody, great tuan, but I heard the voice of a spirit."

The trader started.

"The voice of a spirit!" he echoed. "Yah, tuan. It was a powerful spirit for its word rose above the wind in the trees and the flowing of the river."

"Ah!" The trader set his back firmly against the wall and stuck both hands into his pockets. "And the spirit said?"

"I have come with a message for the white man who lives on the hill and who—up to a point—is good."

"Extremely kind of him, I'm sure! Go on!"

"He spoke also of another white man, tuan, one whom the natives have called 'He Who Sees in the Dark,' who is evil and the spirit would seek to destroy. This is the message the spirit gave to me; tell the white lord that should he continue to live as he has lived—all will be well; but should he receive this other white man into his house or seek to help him—all will be ill."

"I see," said Varney. "In other words, your friend has a pretty good notion in his head that this white man intends coming here and hopes, if I agree to chase him back into the open, to have a prolonged opportunity of slitting his throat! Was that all?"

"All, tuan."

"Bi-la, Chong-Hee! You can clear out!"

The dog growled again, then dashed into the night, barking. For reasons best known to himself, Varney did not attempt to stop it. He turned in order to gauge more easily what was going on outside—and Chong-Hee waited fearfully.

A quick step was audible along the entrance to the night, barking. For reasons best known to himself, Varney did not attempt to stop it. He turned in order to gauge more easily what was going on outside—and Chong-Hee waited fearfully.

Druggists Picnic Proves Success; Over 300 Attend

The annual picnic of the North Dakota Pharmaceutical association yesterday at Fort Lincoln was filled with events to produce fun and jollity. For the past year the Ladies Auxiliary had been arranging sport events and entertainment for the 350 who attended.

That Burt Finney, local secretary of the association this year, has made a success of the entertainment features and business part which fell to his lot was proved by the fact that he was voted the most popular registered druggist at the convention.

The happy day for the hundreds of druggists and their wives and traveling men and their families was opened with guessing contests of the weight and number of pills in various containers. As all those attending were expert pill-mixers or expert by reason of the fact that they were a member of the druggist family the contesting was vigorous and the winners closely matched.

The prizes given in most of these instances were pills or medicines popular with druggists.

In a warmly contested ball game between the druggists and travelers the druggists won by a score of six to four. A group of Putnam Dye and fifty cigars were the prizes awarded.

The cigars were passed around to the winners but the dyes taken home for future use.

The winner of the first home run, J. Halbeisen of Golden Valley, was awarded a baseball glove. He was also the lucky man making the most scores for which he received two boxes of paper.

In the contest between the druggists and travelers the travelers were the victors winning a box of sylvan toilet soap.

W. E. Glitzbach of Anamoose was voted the most popular druggist at the picnic, for which he was awarded an Aladdin jug; Mrs. W. A. Seigfried, Sanborn was voted the tallest lady at the picnic and received as a prize a half dozen boxes of day cream; Mrs. Matheke was voted the shortest lady attending the picnic and received a half dozen cans of nitre cream; F. Hoffman received a razor for the honor of being the homeliest traveler at the picnic.

Mrs. Joseph E. Brown received an assortment of J. & J. products as a reward for having the largest family at the picnic.

In a free for all drinking milk from a pail W. F. Orchard of Dickinson won first place, receiving an assortment of Lilly's products; E. P. Martin, Hazen, second, receiving an assortment of Mulford products; Wm. Bekstrom of Stanley, third for which he won a dozen Harko poultry treatment.

E. P. Martin of Hazen proved the winner of this contest to get the number of pills in a bottle for which he received six dozen mentholatum; in the guessing of the number of drops in a bottle Mrs. J. G. Halbeisen of Golden Valley, Mrs. E. C. Hanson, Pingree, George McCabe, Nekoma, and R. C. Hanson, Pingree, respectively won the prizes, which consisted of a gross Weeks cold tablets, three dozen kidney pills, three dozen Weeks cold tablets, three dozen Weeks cold tablets. In guessing the weight of article in package Mrs. P. H. Costello, Cooperstown, Miss W. H. Irtch Hebron; W. H. Irtch, Hebron, won the prizes which were an assortment of S. & D. Chas. Co. Q. Quinine, and a dozen penman Phytisane respectively.

The $50 showcase, the big prize of the day, was won by Mrs. W. F. Orchard of Dickinson, who held the lucky number.

H. L. Housman of Grafton was the druggist coming the greatest distance by train; Ray Stinson of Pembina came the greatest distance by automobile; Mrs. Peter Mergens of Fairmount was the druggist's wife coming the greatest distance; C. R. Meredith of Killdeer, oldest druggist in attendance; Baby DeBoer of Linton was the youngest baby in attendance; Mr. and Mrs. D. Moore of Hope were the youngest married couple in attendance; E. A. Johnson of Minot was the oldest traveler in attendance; George Kraken of Bismarck the youngest druggist in attendance.

At the annual ball, the evening at the swimming pool, and for numerous other events prizes were given. Those in attendance at the convention were unanimous in their praises of Bismarck's hospitality.

TRIMMING TAKES ROMPERS FROM ORDINARY CLASS

Here are four designs of play rompers that are lifted from the ordinary romper style by reason of their trimming. These embroidery and applique patterns were made especially for them—to make a practical yet entertaining design.

Each romper shows the clever use of two materials. The contrasting colors are a bit unusual and certainly do a great deal to make the garment charming.

Mrs. Vettel Gives Birthday Party

Mrs. C. E. Vettel gave a party at her home on 709 Fifth street yesterday evening in honor of her little daughter, Neva's seventh birthday. Fourteen little boys and girls helped her celebrate by playing games from three to six o'clock when luncheon was served. A birthday cake with seven candles formed the centerpiece on the table. Decorations were carried out in orange and garden flowers were used in a profusion about the house. Favors were little balloons. The hostess was presented with a number of pretty gifts by her friends.

THE ELTINGE
Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture production of "The Eltinge" which shows at the Eltinge theatre today and Saturday, is in every respect a capital picture. The scenes of the story are laid in Florida, and the heroine is the daughter of a revenue officer. The latter is slain in circumstances which point to the guilt of the girl's sweetheart, but after many thrilling incidents, his innocence is established. David Powell gives an artistic portrayal opposite to Miss Dalton. The supporting company is highly capable. The picture is rare entertainment and well worth seeing. One of the popular Fighting Blood stories, "The Knight That Failed" and Pathe News are also on the Eltinge program for Friday and Saturday.

CORWINS KEEP INFORMATION FOR TOURISTS

On account of the large number of motorists passing through the city this summer, the Corwin Motor Co. local Willard Service Station, has instituted an auxiliary bureau to supply information to tourists.

"Although this is the duty performed by the local Association Commerce, there is so much information which might easily be given without troubling that overworked organization, we have decided to help them out," stated Mr. S. W. Corwin, proprietor of the Willard station. "We are in a position to furnish information concerning routes to nearby cities, conditions of roads leading out of Bismarck and such information which is simple, but often of vital concern to tourists desiring to take the shortest routes on best paved roads to their destinations. "We believe this will help to lighten the burden placed on the shoulders of the automobile club because of the large number of tourists seeking information at this time," stated Mr. Corwin.

Editor of Tribune:
Katharine Boyle Farris, writer of the following letter says, "Permit me to offer this little tribute to A. W. Lucas as I was his bookkeeper in the first eight years of his business life in Bismarck."

"He ever so gifted in language, no one can ever hope in the feeble word at his command to adequately describe the glory of the life and character of our departed friend, A. W. Lucas."

"It is as though, in the twilight of evening, one should strive to describe the glory and splendor of the sun at mid-day, for, as the sun at midday always stood A. W. Lucas, in our midst to illumine us in our perplexities, to aid and counsel us in our doubts, and to lighten the hearts of all who came within the circle of his inspiring and genial influence. No greater honor could be desired than to be admittedly numbered among his friends, for his exactions were high. To him there was never but one course—that was straight. His ideals of right were fixed, yet withal he was most charitable in his judgment of those who really tried, even though he partially failed. Where the sacrifice of a principle was involved A. W. Lucas was cast steel, but an appeal to his sympathies found him as gentle as a child, generous of his time, prodigal of his means. Pages would be required to recount his services, to friends, city, and nation; a noble outstanding figure at all times in all places."

"He has been taken from us in the full richness of his manhood and all must mourn their irreparable loss, but he is joined with those he loved who have gone before him, and is now eternally at rest in the divine presence of his Maker, having heard the words of welcome hoped for by those who have won the prize of immortality. "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

STEPPING FAST WITH TOM MIX

In this highly charged melodrama of astounding thrills and sweet romance, Tom enlists the U. S. A. and China for his excitement locale. He and the lovely heroine escape from a dungeon in darkest China, when Tom lassoes a mouse and ties a "help message" around its neck and puts it out the window. Back across the Pacific they dash in a speedy yacht and race the blackguards to the hidden treasure.

Here it is that the versatile Tom qualifies as a champion trick racer. The heavy, on horseback attempts a get-away, but Tom, flinging himself into his prize racer, corners him by an extraordinary skillful and scientific exhibition of driving. The day is saved, the heroine won, and Tom closes broadly for the final happy climax—the first he has found time for during the run of the picture.

The supporting cast is headed by Claire Adams, leading lady, who is a charming foil for the lively star. The others in the cast include: Donald

PROGRESS WAS MADE, BELIEF OF J. H. WORST

Immigration Work Reviewed — Land Contract Sale Form Highly Praised

Belief that good results have been accomplished in immigration work is expressed by J. H. Worst, former commissioner of immigration, and C. G. Boise, executive secretary, in reviewing the administration of the department from which they retired July 1.

The total net expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1923, are $17,123. Of this total $10,144.33 went to salaries and office expenses; $1,441.48 for publicity; $4,224.12 to the field department for salaries and expenses for traveling, etc.; participation in exhibits cost the state $380.94.

The total cost of the operation of the immigration department since it was established August 7, 1919, is shown to be $234,558.69. Of this $23,239.35 has been used for salaries and expenses in the office department; $43,726.84 for publicity; $98,666.31 for the field department and $1,563.96 for exhibits. By order of the special session of the legislature in 1919 $6,500 was transferred to the dairy fund.

The report says in part: Diversified Crop Payment Contracts. "Defection in agricultural lands and products having brought about a general stringency in the money market, it became evident early in 1922 that if any considerable sales of North Dakota real estate could be likely to occur within a year or so, that some crop sales contract should be devised whereby all parties might be protected through one compelling diversified farming, as its basic principle."

"Therefore at the solicitation of certain business men, this office prepared such a contract which has the approval of Governor Nestos, as well as other prominent men. Copies of these contracts were sent to those who had signified a willingness to sell land on such terms."

"This contract was the subject of discussion at the annual convention of the North Dakota Bankers association, held at Minot June 15-16, 1922, and for the purpose of giving it wider publicity, the following letters were given extended circulation: "August 25, 1922."

"Dear Sir: I call especial attention to the following excerpt from the speech of Hon. Wesley McDowell, delivered at the annual convention of the North Dakota Bankers association, held at Minot, June 15-16, 1922; which appears at page 41 July issue of the North Dakota Banker."

"As to immigration, Mr. Chairman, the point I want to make is this, that the thing that is necessary to do to keep men in North Dakota is to sell them the land so that the land will make money enough to pay for it. Mr. Chairman, the Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor (should have said Commissioner of Immigration), has worked out a contract that is now for sale by the Bismarck Tribune. I would like to see every bank in the State of North Dakota order a half dozen of these contracts and read them."

"This letter is not written for the purpose of correcting the above mistake made by Mr. McDowell (except incidentally), but to call attention to the fact that contract Form No. 1 is to be used when the sale is made by the ordinary individual; Contract Form No. 2 is to be used when the

Belief that good results have been accomplished in immigration work is expressed by J. H. Worst, former commissioner of immigration, and C. G. Boise, executive secretary, in reviewing the administration of the department from which they retired July 1.

The total net expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1923, are $13,123. Of this total $10,144.38 went to salaries and office expenses; $1,441.48 for publicity; $4,234.12 to the department for salaries and expenses for traveling, etc.; participation in exhibits cost the state $330.94.

The total cost of the operation of the immigration department since it was established August 7, 1919, is shown to be $234,658.69. Of this $85,269.35 has been used for salaries and expenses in the office department; $46,724.84 for publicity; $98,664.50 for the field department and $1,563.96 for exhibits. By order of the special session of the legislature in 1919 $6,500 was transferred to the dairy fund.

The report says in part: Diversified Crop Payment Contracts. "Deflation in agricultural lands and products having brought about a severe stringency in the money market, it became evident early in 1922 that if any considerable sales of North Dakota real estate could be effected within a year or so, that some crop sales contract should be devised whereby all parties might be protected through some compelling diversified farming, as its basic principle.

On account of the large number of motorists passing through the city this summer the Corwin Motor Co. local Willard Service Station, has instituted an auxiliary bureau for supplying information to tourists.

"Although this is the duty performed by the local Association of Commerce there is so much information which might easily be given without troubling that overworked organization, we have decided to help them out," stated Mr. S. W. Corwin, proprietor of the Willard station.

"We are in a position to furnish information concerning routes to nearby cities, conditions of roads leading out of Bismarck and such information which is simple, but often of vital concern to tourists desiring to take the shortest routes on best paved roads to their destinations.

"We believe this will help to lighten the burden placed on the shoulders of the automobile club because of the large number of tourists seeking information at this time," stated Mr. Corwin.

Editor of Tribune:

Katharine Boyle Farris, writer of the following letter says, "Permit me to offer this little tribute to A. W. Lucas as I was his bookkeeper in the first eight years of his business life in Bismarck."

"Be he ever so gifted in language, no one can ever hope in the feeble word at his command to adequately describe the glory of the life and character of our departed friend, A. W. Lucas.

"It is as though, in the twilight of evening, one should strive to describe the glory and splendor of the sun at mid-day, for, as the sun at midday so always stood A. W. Lucas, in our midst to illumine us in our perplexities, to aid and counsel us in our doubts and to lighten the hearts of all who came within the circle of his inspiring and genial influence. No greater honor could be desired than to be admittedly numbered among his friends, for his actions were high. To him there was never a moment when he was not straight. His ideals of right were fixed, yet withal he was most charitable in his judgment of those who really tried, even though they partially failed. Where the sacrifice of a principle was involved A. W. Lucas was cast steel, but an appeal to his sympathies found him as gentle as a child, generous of his time, prodigal of his means. Pages would be required to recount his services, to friends, city and nation; a noble outstanding figure at all times in all places.

"He has been taken from us in the full richness of his manhood and all must mourn their irreparable loss, but he is joined with those he loved who have gone before him, and is now eternally at rest in the divine presence of his Maker, having heard the words of welcome hoped for by those who have won the prize of immortality. 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

STEPPING FAST WITH TOM MIX THROUGH LIVELY ACTION FILM

Tom Mix scores official qualification as a champion trick automobile racer in his latest William Fox offering, "Stepping Fast," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre for a three day run.

In this highly charged melodrama of astounding thrills and sweet romance, Tom enlists the U. S. A. and China for his excitement locale. He and the lovely heroine escape from a dungeon in darkest China, when Tom lassens a mouse and ties a "help message" around its neck and puts it out the window. Back across the Pacific they dash in a speedy yacht and race the blackguards to the hidden treasure.

Here it is that the versatile Tom qualifies as a champion trick racer. The heavy, on horseback, attempts a get-away, but Tom, flinging himself into his prize race, corners him by an extraordinary skillful and scientific exhibition of driving. The day is saved, the heroine won, and Tom smiles broadly for the final happy close-up the first he has found time for during the run of the picture.

McDonald, Hector Sarno, Edward Peil, George Seigmann, Tom S. Guise and Ethel Wales.

THE ELTINGE

Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture production of "Fog Bound," which shows at the Eltinge theatre today and Saturday, is in every respect a capital picture. The scenes of the story are laid in Florida, and the heroine is the daughter of a revenue officer. The latter is slain in circumstances which point to the guilt of the girl's sweetheart, but after many thrilling incidents, his innocence is established. David Powell gives an artistic portrayal opposite to Miss Dalton. The supporting company is highly capable. The picture is rare entertainment and well worth seeing. One of the popular Fighting Blood stories, "The Knight That Failed" and Pathe News are also on the Eltinge program for Friday and Saturday.

Each romper shows the clever use of two materials. The contrasting colors are a bit unusual and certainly do a great deal to make the garment charming.

"We believe this will help to lighten the burden placed on the shoulders of the automobile club because of the large number of tourists seeking information at this time," stated Mr. Corwin.

"Therefore at the solicitation of certain business men, this office prepared such a contract which has the approval of Governor Nestos, as well as other prominent men. Copies of these contracts were sent to those who had signified a willingness to sell land on such terms.

"This contract was the subject of discussion at the annual convention of the North Dakota Bankers association, held at Minot June 15-16, 1922, and for the purpose of giving it wider publicity, the following letters were given extended circulation:

"Dear Sir:

"We call especial attention to the following excerpt from the speech of Hon. Wesley McDowell, delivered at the annual convention of the North Dakota Bankers association, held at Minot, June 15-16, 1922, which appears at page 41 July issue of the North Dakota Banker.

"As to immigration, Mr. Chairman, the point I want to make is this, that the thing that is necessary to do to keep me in North Dakota is to sell them the land so that the land will make money enough to pay for it.

"Mr. Chairman, the Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor (should have said Commissioner of Immigration), has worked out a contract that is now for sale by the Bismarck Tribune. I would like to see every bank in the State of North Dakota order a half dozen of these contracts and read them."

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

NATION'S DAY OF MOURNING

Today is the nation's day of mourning, so declared by proclamation, willingly and fittingly observed by citizens all over the Republic. Today the supreme tribute of a nation is paid to its fallen leader. There is none too rich, none too poor, not so powerful or meek that he cannot voice the spirit of the day.

If Warren Harding could know charity of expression, the genuine sympathy, the solemn reverence of the nation at this time he could not but feel a new confidence in the land he loved and served so well. Often caustic in criticism of its chief executive, sometimes careless and bitter in denunciation in life, it is characteristic of the lofty spirit of the American people that in death there is poured out an honest and heartfelt grief, there is given a recognition due the sacrifice made in their behalf; harshness is stilled and appreciation is shown.

For the people of the nation see clearly, more clearly than ever before perhaps, the great strain of the conduct of the office of chief executive of the land. They realize that Woodrow Wilson was broken in body and spirit in his service, that Warren Harding was borne to death by the cares of office, both true soldiers of the Republic, giving the best they had and doing the right as they saw it. It is fitting that the people of Bismarck have joined in the day of national mourning, as have the people of thousands of other cities and towns in the nation. Perhaps it may lead to a lasting appreciation of the Presidency, a greater spirit of charity in life, a finer recognition of the service given by the chief magistrates of the land.

GONE

Two bone harpoons, notched like saws, were lost 20,000 years ago in an English peat bog which preserved them until discovered recently.

These harpoons belonged to Maglemose men who WALKED from Denmark to England. In those days—according to the anthropological journal, Man—the North Sea was dry.

Since then, geography has changed and so have men. Some philosopher said that nothing is eternal except change. But let's forget the ancients. Pondering them too intently is apt to make us wonder if effort is futile. The only effort that is not futile is the improvement of self. That's our life purpose.

SNOW

One steam shovel and three five-ton trucks remove as much snow as can be handled by 50 men and 10 teams, according to Engineering News-Record. The man-power method cost $265, the mechanical way $127, last winter in Hartford, Conn.

When machinery can do for $127 the work that costs $265 when performed chiefly by human labor, men naturally are out of jobs. But they soon find new ones.

Labor-saving machinery temporarily injures the people whose jobs it takes. But the man-power thus released becomes available for effort in new fields. This is the process by which our standard of living gradually rises.

PUSSYFOOT

Pussyfoot Johnson hits the trail again. He'll carry the prohibition fight into South Africa, Egypt, Turkey, Arabia and India. He claims that the Mohammedans, who are forbidden by their religion to drink liquor, nip quite a bit on the sly.

Pussyfoot has 600,000,000 people in this new territory he's working. He won't live to see it, and neither will we, but eventually the whole world will have prohibition. After occasional relapses. A nation is like an individual. Maybe you've had experience, know how difficult it is to get an old soak cured of the thirst.

NOW

Everything has its good side, even a heat wave. Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. finds that the death rate decreases almost a third in July, August and September.

These three are not the healthiest months of the year. Their death rate is low because people take better care of themselves in summer than in winter—eat less, dress properly and get fresh air. Health is nine-tenths up to ourselves, one-tenth controlled externally. Our death rate is highest in winter. But the healthiest people in the world are Eskimos, who spend most of their lives in winter.

WALL PAPER

The Pullman car works in Chicago has been making dining cars decorated with wall paper. The idea is to give each car a little variety or personal touch. It's a reaction from the monotony of standardization.

A traveling salesman, writing us about one of these cars, says he found it more interesting than the World Court, the Harding trip to Alaska or the election of Magnavox Johnson. People are most interested in the simple details (routine equipment) of life.

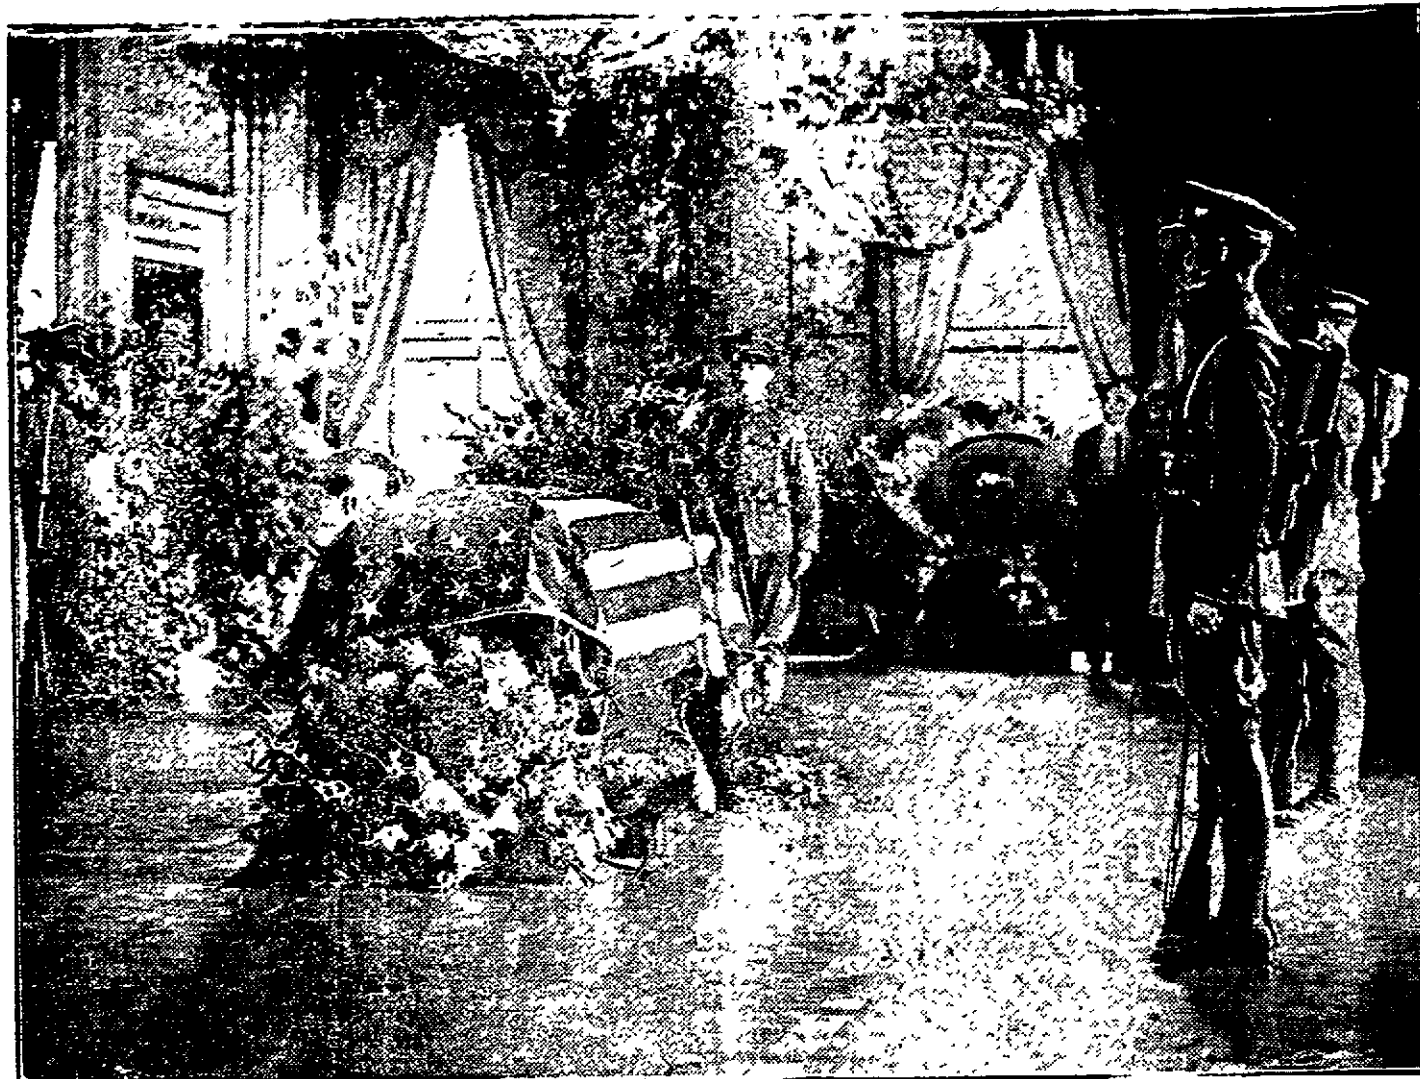

FIRST

A factory in Strong, Maine, gets an order by radio from Japan for a carload of toothpicks. Few of us realize that the radio is primarily an invention of immense practical value, rather than a scientific toy for our entertainment. It is not improbable that at some future date radio will be the chief means of communication. It may even surpass speech when airplanes scatter population.

BIG

American machinery in one year has turned out more shawls than Paisley community made in a century. This is the amazing comment of W. H. Barr, Scotch merchant, who visited our country recently.

HIS LAST REST IN THE WHITE HOUSE

In the historic East Room of the White House, where in life he entertained distinguished foreign delegations and received the folks from "back home," Warren G. Harding's body lay in state. The golden chandeliers cast a mellow glow over the flag-draped casket as high government officials called to pay their respects to the nation's chief.

BACK TO SCENES OF TRIUMPHS

Here is the caisson bearing the body of Warren G. Harding turning into Pennsylvania avenue en route from the White House to the capitol. General Pershing led the military escort. Thousands, from newsmen and flower girls on up to the nation's leaders, passed before the bier as it lay in state under the spreading dome of the historic old government building.

LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO MR. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON.

MY DEAR HUSBAND:
The queerest thing possible has happened. Joe dear, and it seems to me as if it were a direct interposition of Providence.
You remember when you were here last, we talked over the feasibility of bringing a baby to Leslie and seeing if we could not interest her in it. The night before last Leslie did not seem as well as usual. She was very restless. Keep meaning even in her sleep. Yesterday morning, much to the surprise of every one, she called as soon as she awoke for Jack. And when he came she said, "I want to go home."
Jack seemed to think that she wanted to come to our home and he sent for me post haste. However, before I was dressed and had gotten to her room, she explained to Jack that she meant their own apartment. Of course every one, including the doctor, was perfectly delighted to hear her make some request, and within an hour we had her back in her own bedroom, and I again had taken the apartment across the hall for myself and the nurses.
For a little time she seemed much brighter yesterday morning, although the ride and the settling of her in her home tired her greatly. About noon she went to sleep and slept until late in the afternoon. When she awoke she asked, "Where is my baby?" Bring him to me."
No one dared answer. She seemed to have forgotten all about her accident and her long illness and to think only that we were keeping her baby from her. She was quite delicious and only sank to sleep after the doctor had given her a narcotic.
I confess we were all very much worried. Jack thought that she would never recover her normal mind again. I found him about half past walked to the doorway and opened the door into the hall.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Oh, say!" cried little Mrs. Dumphy, rushing into the throne room where King Snookums, king of the Pee Wees, sat on his throne. "Davy's gone!"
King Snookums straightened his crown and sat up. "Davy! You don't say so! And where's he gone?"
"He's gone to hunt a volcano!" cried poor little Mrs. Dumphy, sitting down on an acorn and hunting for her pocket hanky to cry in. "Tiny Mite next door heard him tell a butler that a volcano was a mountain with a hole on top of it. And when Davy said he wished he could see one, there was a whole row of them and if my Davy wanted to see them to hop on his back and he'd take him there. That was last night and I haven't seen him since. Oh, dear!"
"It's a case for Nancy and Nick, my detectives," cried King Snookums. "They can find a lost Pee Wee quicker than most folks can find a word in a dictionary. I'll call 'em right now. Nancy! Nick! Come here and bring your magic shoes."
When the twins heard the trouble they set to hunt for the poor little Pee Wee lady's lost Davy. The first thing they did was to ask all the butterflies. The yellow butterfly with the black dots knew all about it. "Yes, jump on me and I'll take you to the place," he said. "Davy crawled into the hole on top of one of the volcanoes and I haven't seen him since."
And, mind you! The yellow butterfly took them to a fence with a row of flower pots on top turned upside down. "There are the volcanoes!" he said. "But it's gone. The one with Davy inside! It was the second one in the row. Oh, there it is! It's got a flower planted in it now."
Then Davy must be under the

THE YELLOW SEVEN.
The Passing of Zara-Khan

NEA Service, Inc. 1923

By Edmund Neill

This unusual series of stories deals with the exploits of "Chinese" Pennington, a detective sent by his government to British North Borneo to run to earth The Yellow Seven, a gang of Chinese bandits.

James Varney's bungalow was a landmark. It stood on the summit of a hill at the foot of which the turbid Tembakut River, swarming from some mysterious point of origin in the Borneo hinterland, swayed abruptly and, leaving its wide muddy delta infested with crocodiles, continued its onward course to the sea. Varney knew that river and had charmed it as thoroughly as it was possible to charm anything in the lesser-known regions of a perplexing Orient. He understood the habits and customs of the Dyak villagers whose dwellings clustered along the palm-girt banks. It was possible for these reasons that a discriminating syndicate in London—that exploited the coconut from its outer husk to the oil that lurked beneath its hard exterior—had seen fit to entrust him with their interests.

Varney was thirty-seven. He was short, moreover, and stockily built, with a rugged, kindly countenance upon which the tropical sun had set its unmistakable sign and superscription. He had a dog—a shaggy, friendly animal of unknown breed—an extensive library of faded, cloth-bound books, and a marked preference for Dutch tobacco. Varney—who despised all other forms of personal adornment—had from time to time solicited the aid of the most skilled tattooer on the island—one Zara-Khan—and, excepting for a space the size of a dinner-plate on his broad chest with a corresponding vacancy between his shoulders, his body was covered with the grim masterpieces of Zara-Khan.

Before the cyclone came, Varney had been working over those two blank spaces. Zara-Khan—a tall, slim, brown-skinned scoundrel, with an ingratiating smile, a gaudy turban, and a suit of white ducks—had looked in on one of his periodical visits to Varney's area. He had passed on to a neighboring rubber estate, having on the return journey found his lucrative client less exercised in mind. Coming swiftly on the heels of a perfect tropic afternoon, the storm-flood had spread its cloak over the entire heavens.

It seemed that nothing short of a miracle could have spared Varney's house; but, as luck would have it, the fury of the gale had merely lifted the sagu-thatch until it stood on end, allowing the ensuing deluge to pour in; had deposited Varney's dog in the river a couple of hundred yards away, and left half the crockery in the bungalow intact. The more sheltered buildings—offices, stores, quarters, the cinema, and the like, had crumpled like a pack of cards.

Chong—the dog—had crawled back to the veranda and crouched in a corner over a chunk of raw meat pilaged from a ruined store. Varney, returned from a preliminary investigation of damage, was greeting the imminent fall of darkness through the tumbled roof of his abode, wherein countless silver bubbles scurried merrily upward. A half-dazed Chinese boy—bare to the waist—endeavored from a complete packet of matches to discover one that would serve to ignite the wick of the oil lamp. Something happened and he then leapt into flame and the servant emitted a great shout of satisfaction.

The Chinaman shuffled beyond the steps of the lamp; the dog growled with sudden fierceness and bounded toward the entrance, where the trader intercepted it skillfully—and, as if touched by an unseen hand over the veranda-rail, a piece of paste-board fluttered through the crowd of humming insects that encircled the lamp and came to rest on the sudden boards almost at Varney's feet.

He stooped and picked up the card. It was as long as his middle finger—a narrow, flexible thing with rounded corners. He turned it over curiously between his finger—then started back in horrified amazement. "The Yellow Seven!"

A second later he was turning over a Jumbled lot of moist documents, searching for the circular he had received only two days before from Captain John Hewitt—Commissioner of Police at Jesselton—a kind of formal warning that this yellow seven was the sign employed by a powerful secret organization—singing of death! He looked forward a chair and, pouring himself out a generous helping from a square bottle, examined the document and the card in turn.

Presently he folded the document carefully over the pasteboard, thrusting both into a tunic pocket, leant back in his chair.

It was fully ten minutes before he did try to serve some onions with perfume on them.

The only successful substitute for brains is silence.

A Thought

When he giveth quietness, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him?—Job 34:29.

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself. Nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Emerson.

SUSPECT WANTED IN WEST. Valley City, N. D., Aug. 10.—Frank E. Walters, alias M. G. McRae, arrested here for burglary, is wanted by Idaho authorities, according to local

Chong-Hee returned. He stood on the threshold, shivering like a man with the ague, and Varney beckoned him to approach.

"I saw nobody, great tnan, but I heard the voice of a spirit!"

The trader started. "The voice of a spirit!" he echoed. "Yah, tnan. It was a powerful spirit for its word rang above the wind in the trees and the flowing of the river."

"Ah!" The trader set his back firmly against the wall and stuck both hands into his pockets. "And the spirit said?"

"I have come with a message for the white man, who lives on the hill and who—up to a point—is good." "Extremely kind of him, I'm sure!" Go on!

"He spoke also of another white man, tnan, one whom the natives have called 'The Who Sees in the Dark,' who is evil and the spirit would seek to destroy. This is the message the spirit gave to me: tell the white lord that should he continue to live as he has lived—all will be well; but should he receive this other white man into his house or seek to help him—all will be ill."

"I see," said Varney. "In other words, your friend has a pretty good notion in his head that this white man intends coming here and hopes, if I agree to change him back into the open, to have a prolonged opportunity of sitting his throat? Was that all?"

"All, tnan."

"Bi-la, Chong-Hee! Xpi-san, clear out."

The dog growled again, then dashed into the night, barking. For reasons best known to himself, Varney did not attempt to stop it. He turned in order to gauge more easily what was going on outside—and Chong-Hee waited fearfully.

A quick step was audible along the path and the dog's infuriated baying had turned into a joyous greeting. A tall, slim man took the steps in a cede of strides and halted on the threshold. His nose turned set at a jaunty angle over eyes that might have belonged to a Celestial, had not the remainder of the newcomer's appearance been so obviously British.

Varney hurried forward. "Pennington! Peter Pennington! Man alive, I'm mighty glad to see you!"

Chong-Hee still remained at the entrance to the passage-way. There was recognition written clearly in his half-closed eyes.

"I saw your light—miles away," laughed Chinese Pennington, "and made for it like a shot. It missed you, though."

"By the merest stroke of luck. Beyond this, I haven't a building intact. One of my clerk's got his leg broken and a couple of coolies'll have to be buried in the morning. Chong-Hee! Take Mr. Pennington's cane and hat and make it bath and dinner for two. Yah!"

Pennington's glance lit upon the square bottle.

"Next to your admirable self," he admitted, "there's nothing on earth I more wanted to see than that! I've had the devil's own time—and the devil's own luck."

"How's that?" demanded the other, pushing forward a chair. "I haven't seen you for months. Varney, so I expect you're wondering what particular stunt is interesting me at present?" He lowered his voice. "I'm trying to tackle the toughest proposition it's ever been my luck to strike. Hewitt's got me chasing round after Chai-Hung and his Yellow Seven."

"Got your work cut out! Here's luck!"

"Cheerful! This afternoon—to get it off my chest—I was on the verge of bringing off the final coup. I'd had the Commissioner down to see the plan. He got collared by the thinkers. Luckily he had a Chinese tea-pot and I knocked it into his lap, covering him at the same time with my automatic. Believe me or not, old son, but that confounded cyclone arrived just in time to spoil anything. It smashed Dawson's place to match-wood. I had my hands full saving Mrs. Varney. It was an awful and a before the Commissioner and Dawson joined us—and I packed them all off to Jesselton before going back to the ruins. Three of my agents and myself turned the bungalow inside out. We found what was left of Dawson's boy, but there wasn't a trace of our friend Chai-Hung—except his red umbrella and a battered hat—tossed off."

"Then you think he succeeded in getting clear?"

police. According to a message received here, he and two others escaped from the Idaho penitentiary by overpowering the guards. Local officials were wired to take no chances in holding him. Authorities state Walters probably will be turned over to the Idaho authorities before action is taken against him here. Police say Walters, when arrested, was in possession of a bag containing jewelry and other loot identified as stolen from the residence here of Prof. Stanley Mythaler.

MISSING FARMER FOUND.

Ryder, N. D., Aug. 10.—Missing four days, Chris Johnson, aged farmer of this section, was found under a pile of snow fences and covered with grain sheaves. He was so weak he was unable to stand. Apparently he had become despondent over farming conditions and worried over inability to meet an installment on his farm, although his financial condition was unimpaired as acute. He was given hot food and drink and after his strength was revived he was taken back to his farm.

RUTH CLIMBS UP NEAR TOP IN HITTING

Just a Fraction of a Decimal Point Behind Harry Heilmann Today

YANKEES DEFEATED

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The New York Yankees lost to the Detroit Tigers at the Yankee Stadium yesterday but Babe Ruth figures he won. Despite the fact that Detroit took the game, 11 to 3, the Babe by making one hit, being passed three times and making a safe grounder, crept up so close to Harry Heilmann in the batting average race that he was wearing blisters on the Detroit right-fielders' heels. The Babe's average is now .3903 and Harry's is .3906.

The New York Nationals also howed to defeat in St. Louis in a desperate 15-inning game they lost, 13 to 12. The thirty-seven players who took part in the game made 12 errors and three home runs. Eight of the errors belonged to the Giants and two of the homers also.

The Pittsburgh Nationals defeated Brooklyn, 6 to 2. The Boston Nationals in a pitcher's battle in Cincinnati beat the Cincinnati Reds, 1 to 0. Genevieve held the Red swatters to five hits, while Rixey and Keck allowed only eight.

The Chicago Nationals just managed to skim past the Phillies in Chicago, winning with a 9th inning run, two to one. Miller did the hitting and Callaghan the running for the final out.

The Boston Americans made a rally in Boston and defeated the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 3, with a pair of eight inning runs.

In Washington the Senators trimmed Cleveland, 2 to 1.

In Philadelphia the Athletics won their series with Chicago, 3 out of 4, swamping the White Sox, 21 to 5. No games will be played today out of respect to the late President Harding.

THIRD GAME OF SERIES GOES TO VISITORS

But There Are Plenty of Interesting "Freaks" in the Game, Anyway

Minot took last evening's game from the Capitals by a score of 7 to 3, but it was a game which had a lot more features than one might expect. Hester went on the mound for Minot and Joe Day was in for Bismarck. It looked like the locals might win, but the heavy artillery of the Capitals found it harder to hit Hester's balls safely than they might have against a speed artist.

Here are some of the features: The work of Fuller, a recruit third baseman on the Bismarck team. He got tangled up in his suit which was about six sizes too big for him when Kirby Spranger was trapped between third and second and danced a jig. Fuller got dizzy and fell down and then made a lunge and Spranger was out. (Applause and laughter.)

"Cherries" Dennison, who had struck out five of six times in the two last games, made a mighty swing and got a two-base hit.

Fuller went out on an unusual play, second to short to first. It was an attempted double and the man at

A sergeant taking kicks from someone without exercising his authority—Umpire Sergeant Culpepper took some "beefing" with good nature rare for one who bears the title.

Pos. Day struck out 10 men but was battered hard.

Other features: Kirby Spranger's antics. Joe Day got a hit. Wally Walters "hey-hey."

Game over in hour and half. Minot opened with two safes in the first. Spranger was safe and went to second while Gunther was going out, short to first. He scored on Coleman's two-bagger. Coleman scored on Hester's single.

Minot opened hard in the sixth. Gunther, Coleman and Walters got hits in succession and Gunther scored when McNight missed Hester's grounder. Coleman scored on Liefer's sacrifice fly. Walters and Hester scored on Brandt's two-bagger. Lauber and Dennison struck out.

It looked as if Bismarck might run up a score at times, but the balls hit, which hits were needed fell into somebody's hands. Spranger and Gunther seemed to want to play most of the game themselves. Gunther had eight put-outs at second base and four assists, while Spranger had four put-outs and seven assists. Their splendid fielding helped make up for some other short-comings in the game.

RUTH CLIMBS UP NEAR TOP IN HITTING

Just a Fraction of a Decimal Point Behind Harry Heilmann Today

YANKEES DEFEATED

Lucas, Aug. 10.—The New York Yankees lost to the Detroit Tigers at the Yankee Stadium yesterday but Babe Ruth figures he won. Despite the fact that Detroit took the game, 11 to 3, the Babe by making one hit, being passed three times and making a safe grounder, crept up so close to Harry Heilmann in the batting average race that he was wearing blue on the Detroit right-fielder's heels. The Babe's average is now .3903 and Harry's is .3906.

The New York Nationals also bowed to defeat in St. Louis in a desperate 15-inning game they lost, 13 to 12. The thirty-seven players who took part in the game made 12 errors and three home runs. Eight of the errors belonged to the Giants and six of the homers also.

The Pittsburgh Nationals defeated Brooklyn, 6 to 2. The Boston Nationals in a pitcher's battle in Cincinnati beat the Cincinnati Reds, 1 to 0. Genewich held the Red awaters to five hits, while Rixey and Keck allowed only eight.

The Chicago Nationals just managed to skim past the Phillies in Chicago, winning with a 9th inning run, two to one. Miller did the hitting and Callaghan the running for the final counter.

The Boston Americans made a rally in Boston and defeated the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 3, with a pair of eight inning runs.

In Washington the Senators trimmed Cleveland, 2 to 1.

In Philadelphia the Athletics won their series with Chicago, 3 out of 4, swamping the White Sox, 21 to 5. No games will be played today out of respect to the late President Harding.

THIRD GAME OF SERIES GOES TO VISITORS

But There Are Plenty of Interesting "Freaks" in the Game, Anyway

Minot took last evening's game from the Capitols by a score of 7 to 3, but it was a game which had a lot more features than one might expect. Hester went on the mound for Minot and Joe Day was in for Bismarck. It looked like the locals might win, but the head article of the Capitols found it harder to hit Hester's balls safely than they might have against a speed artist.

Here are some of the features:

The work of Fuller, a recruit third baseman on the Bismarck team. He got tangled up in his suit which was about six sizes too big for him when third and second and danced a jig. Fuller got dizzy and fell down and then made a lunge and Spranger was out. (Applause and laughter.)

"Cherries" Dennison, who had struck out five of six times in the two last games, made a mighty swing and got a two-base hit.

Coleman in center for Minot misjudged about the first one this season.

Fuller went out on an unusual play, second to short to first. It was an attempted double and the man at

second was safe but Fuller was out at first.

A sergeant taking kicks from someone without exerting his authority—Umpire Sergeant Culppeper took some "beating" with good nature rare for one who bears the title.

Pos. Day struck out 10 men but was batted hard.

Other features:

Kibby Spranger's antics.

Joe Day got a hit.

Wally Walters "hey-hay."

Game over in hour and half.

Minot opened with two scores in the first. Spranger was safe and went to second while Gunther was going out, short to first. He scored on Coleman's two-bagger. Coleman scored on Hester's single.

Minot opened hard in the sixth. Gunther, Coleman and Walters got hits in succession and Gunther scored when McNight missed Hester's grounder. Coleman scored on Liefers' sacrifice fly. Walters and Hester scored on Brandt's two-bagger. Lawber and Dennison struck out.

It looked as if Bismarck might run up a score at times, but the bulls hit when they were needed. Let into somebody's hands. Spranger and Gunther seemed to want to play most of the game themselves. Gunther had eight put-outs at second base and four assists, while Spranger had three put-outs and seven assists. Their splendid fielding helped make up for some other short-comings in the game.

FIGHTING MAN IS REWARDED

President Coolidge Makes Trip Possible For Him

Washington, Aug. 10.—President Coolidge rewarded a fighting man's loyalty to a commander in chief.

The fighting man was Michael A. Donaldson of Haverstraw, N. Y., a congressional medal of honor man, and until recently a sergeant in the 165th Infantry. The commander in chief was Warren G. Harding. The reward was an unexpected opportunity to attend the burial services at Marion, as the guest of the new president.

Donaldson isn't a word painter. He couldn't tell newspapermen just what his feeling for President Harding had been. But he decided to come to Washington to pay tribute at Wednesday's funeral ceremonies. It took some pinching to find the train fare but it was found, and he marched from the White House to the capital, behind the body of his dead commander. Donaldson didn't think anybody knew his presence or cared. But there was one who did—his new commander in chief, Calvin Coolidge.

Rescued 6 Wounded
Comrades testify that never a shiver ran down the spine of Sergeant Donaldson when on October 14, 1918, under withering fire, he crept from the sunken Summerland-Landres-St. Georges road and, in broad daylight and in plain view of the enemy, made six trips to the crest of a hill to rescue wounded buddies.

And today there were no shivers—but Donaldson was puzzled when the president sent for him.

"Seemed funny," he said. "Said he 'wanted the honor' of meeting me. Seems funny, doesn't it?"

But he had recovered before he marched into the presidential suite and was asked by Mr. Coolidge to make the trip to Marion.

SAY GAS CUT IS TOO GREAT

South Dakota Independents Would Welcome Some Cut

Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 10.—Independent oil dealers of South Dakota will welcome a cut of two or three cents in the price of gasoline, according to Fred H. Buehler, of Madison, secretary of the South Dakota Association of Independent Oil Jobbers, but he said, the public should not expect the price to be cut to such an unreasonable figure as that named by Governor McMaster.

"The independent dealers want it understood that they have nothing whatever to do with setting the price of gasoline, as that price is dictated by the Standard Oil Company," Mr. Buehler said.

"Both the national association of independent oil jobbers and the South Dakota association have gone on record in recent meetings as favoring a cut in the price of crude oil to conform with the law of supply and demand, but have failed in their efforts as the Standard Oil Company has control of the crude oil market, and reduction must start with the crude oil.

"In general, the independents favor the procedure of Governor McMaster, as a cut in the price is proper, but the figure he named is a little too heartless.

"High prices create a condition that is distasteful to the independents, but the merciless cut of Governor McMaster will, if carried out, entirely eliminate the independent dealers, or little fellow. We don't want to be spanked for a situation that we did not create."

TWO CHARGED WITH ROBBERY

Two men giving their names as Robert Clark and Harry Robins are under arrest here on a charge of having stolen the automobile of Christian Johnson, 2410 West Sixty-seventh street, Seattle, Wash. They were picked by Chief Martineson after word that a Chevrolet automobile belonging to Johnson had been received here.

A man giving his name as William Burkevitz was arrested today on a charge of vagrancy and begging. It is alleged that he begged on north Fifth street last night and when refused anything insulted women who answered the doorbell.

RECEIVER IS APPOINTED

George E. Bastrup in Temporary Charge of Equity Affairs.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 10.—Geo. E. Bastrup of Courtenay, former secretary of the Equity Cooperative Packing Company of West Fargo, has been named temporary receiver of the company by Judge M. J. Englert, it became known in Fargo. The court acted on the application of Louis Sall, banker of Plummer, Minn., who is a creditor to the extent of $3,800, and Ben Thorsgard, a stockholder. The court set Saturday, August 18, as the day on which cause may be shown why the receivership should not be made permanent. Coombs and Ritchie of Valley City are the attorneys for the petitioners. The order was issued by Judge Englert in Valley City.

Heavy Losses At New England

New England, N. D., Aug. 10.—Destructive hail storms Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, following the severe one of last Sunday, halted out a large area in this section and will bring accumulated state hail loss claims to from $200,000 to $300,000 on several thousand acres of crops, it is estimated.

On Tuesday a large area in the Amidon community was hailed out, and several storms traveled from the Badlands. On Wednesday afternoon a big storm eight miles wide traveled southeast from Amidon, through the Pierce and Mineral Springs communities in Slope county and through DeSart and Reeder.

Sunday's storm, which started in the Badlands, traveled east more than 100 miles and destroyed a strip about five miles wide through DeSart and the county south of New England, Havelock and Regent. The storm raised near Mott, but heavy damage was done to buildings in New Leipzig and surrounding farming territory. This storm broke nearly all windows on the west side of houses in its path. Stock suffered severely. Hundreds of jack rabbits were killed and trees were badly injured. Even feed in the pastures was pounded into the ground.

BANDITS HOLD TOWN AT BAY

Fairmount, Minn., Aug. 10.—Five bandits held approximately 200 citizens of Maple Hill, Iowa, at bay early this morning while they leisurely but ineffectually attempted to rob the privately owned bank of Fred Reuf and B. F. Robinson, according to word received here.

The bandits attempted to blow the safe and the first detonation brought villagers hurrying to the bank. Two of the bandits trying to guard their companions with guns, keeping the crowd in hand by occasionally firing into the air. After an hour's fruitless work, however, the bandits gave up their attempts and fled in an automobile. Seizing of all wire communication by the bandits when they entered the town prevented a speedy spread of the alarm.

COOPERATION IN SOUTH PAYS

A. C. Professor, Back From Florida, Reports on Citrus Fruit Growers Actions

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 10.—Citrus fruit growers of Florida are making a remarkable success of cooperative marketing, and growers are well satisfied with the results secured, according to Max Waldron, former student of the North Dakota Agricultural college, who is now manager of a 1600-acre citrus plantation at Babson Park, Florida, in the Crooked Lake district. Mr. Waldron has been spending the past week visiting with his parents, Dean and Mrs. C. B. Waldron of the Agricultural college.

"Our cooperative marketing organization is known as the Florida Citrus exchange, and at present is handling nearly half of all the grapefruit and oranges produced in Florida," Mr. Waldron declares. "In addition to the marketing work, we also have cooperative packing houses for preparation of the fruit, a cooperative mill for manufacturing crates, an organization through which we can purchase all necessary supplies at cost, a fertilizer manufacturing plant, and a finance corporation that will advance money to growers after their fruit has ripened, but while it is still on the trees, so that they can hold off selling for several months if necessary in order to prevent a glut of the market."

"All of the citrus fruit there is produced in an area of less than 200 miles in diameter. We have a monopoly in Florida of land suitable for growing grapefruit, and California is the only state that gives us any competition in the sale of oranges, so our marketing problem is somewhat different than that of the grain producers of the northwest. The fruit growers in Florida, however, have demonstrated the possibilities of cooperation, and I believe that the grain producers, if they ever get together in a cooperative organization, can accomplish similar satisfactory results."

WHEAT PLAN IS ATTACKED

Called Economically Unsound By Chicago Grain Man

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The plan advanced by the American Farm Bureau Federation to store 200,000,000 bushels of wheat on farms in the hope of raising prices, was declared yesterday to be unsound, impractical and of no permanent benefit to the farmer, by John J. Stream, president of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Farmers in distress are not those with storage facilities, nor are they financially able to construct such containers, Mr. Stream said. If storage space was available and if farmers were a unit in following the plan, it would still be far from solution, he added.

"Keeping wheat off the market never has and never will change the supply and demand status," he declared. "It would simply add to the confusion that has resulted from agitation and ridiculous public pronouncements by ill-advised politicians. We must get rid of the surplus. If held until next year, it would have to compete with the new crop."

Mr. Stream declared political agitators have destroyed the farmers' credit with flaring tales of his insolvency and predicted the crest of the radical wave has passed.

KILLED VILLA LETTER SAYS

Mexico City, Aug. 10.—Attorney-General DeHuema announced last night that President Obregon had received a letter signed Guezas Salaz, a member of the lower house of the legislature, from Durango confessing that he led the band that killed Francisco Villa on July 20. The letter said that the former bandit leader was murdered in order to avenge his numerous victims. President Obregon sent the letter to the Attorney-General for investigation.

The Texas Company's resources include:—
Wells in the greatest petroleum fields. Terminals, storage facilities, and marketing branches in all parts of the world. Huge refineries. Factories for the manufacture of asphalt roofing, steel barrels, wooden cases, and tin cans. Over 5,000 tank cars. A large fleet of tank ships. Deep-water terminals in 29 ports in the United States and Europe. 25,000 employees. Every day 1,000,000 gallons of Texaco Gasoline are consumed.

Stop for Gas at the TEXACO Pump

You'll know that pump by the red star and green "T" the trademark of The Texas Company.

Texaco Gasoline is volatile, and volatility is simply the readiness with which gasoline gives up its power. Texaco gives up its power instantly.

The high volatility of Texaco Gasoline means, mileage goes up; and upkeep goes down. Yes—and you'll get easier starting, quicker pick-up, increased flexibility, better hill work and less shifting with Texaco in the tank.

Drive up to the Texaco pump.

Wherever you see that sign of the red Texaco Star you'll find the same full-powered gas—always volatile—and always uniform. And use Texaco Motor Oil—the clean, clear, golden colored lubricant—light, medium, heavy or extra heavy—there's a grade for every car.
